FOOD PRODUCTION BODY CREATED

President Names C. C. Davis to Administer Agriculture Distribution

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt announced today the creation in the Agriculture Department of an administration of food production and distribution to be headed by Chester C. Davis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis and former director of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

A White House statement said that "the administrator will have charge of what may be called the food production and distribution activities of the department, including the agricultural adjustment administration, the food distribution activities that were transferred to the Department of Agriculture by the War Production Board last December, and the recruitment of farm labor recently transferred to the department by the War Manpower Commission."

An administration declaration of determined opposition to the pending Bankhead and Pace farm price bills accompanied the reports today that President Roosevelt planned a new administrative agency to handle wartime food production, distribution and price problems.

The administration let it be known through Prentiss M. Brown, price administrator, that it believes enactment of the Bankhead and Pace bills would add more than $3,750,000,000 to consumers' budgets and destroy the anti-inflation program.

Brown wrote Congressional leaders that these two farm bills call for "so radical a change in the price of foods" as to mean "the end of stabilization of prices" and the end of "stabilization of wages as well."

The Bankhead bill, passed by the House Wednesday, would eliminate government benefit payments in figuring parity prices and ceilings on agricultural productions, while the Pace bill would increase parity prices through the inclusion of farm labor costs in the parity formula.

Taken together, Brown said, the two bills would raise the retail

Colorado Governor Acts to Hold Workers For Crops

DENVER, March 25 (AP)—Governor John C. Vivian ordered today an immediate halt to the induction of Colorado farm workers into the armed forces.

The governor, who recently has asserted that Colorado war crop goals could not be attained unless workers were permitted to stay on the farms, announced his action in a letter to Brigadier General Harold H. Richardson, state director of selective service.

Governor Vivian said he was taking the action "under the power and authority to administer the selective service system within my state under section 603.11 of the regulations governing this agency."

RATION STAMP VALUE MAY RISE

Officials Imply Some Cut for Many Processed Fruits, Vegetables

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—April's canned goods ration stamps became valid today, but housewives are expected to hold them for another week because of strong hints from OPA that their value will be increased next month.

Future plans were kept secret, but top officials who refused to be quoted by name implied that some reduction in the point values of many types of processed fruits and vegetables could be expected, effective April 1.

(A further indication of this came from a statement of the American Institute of Food Distribution in New York that movement to market of important canned vegetables had dropped 60 to 95 per cent under point rationing.

(Blaming newness of the system and "unnecessarily high point values," the institute said in its canners' market report that: "This fault (high point values) will be righted—partly by reduction of several point values by April 1, and later by wholesale revision of these values May 1.")

April coupons were made valid March 25 to help persons who come to the end of the month with insufficient March stamps to meet essential needs, or with odd numbers of March points that won't stretch.

A new table of fruit and vegetable point values is expected to be made public over the weekend. Between this and the meat, cheese and fat and oil point values, which become effective next Monday, householders will get a new idea of wartime eating with their No. 2 Ration Books.

While it may be profitable to hold April canned goods stamps for a week, officials reminded that the March stamps must be spent by midnight of next Wednesday or they will become worthless. The March stamps are the blue A, B and C stamps. The April issue is the blue D, E and F stamps.

The Red meat-fat-oil-cheese stamps become valid in alphabetical order at the start of each

QUAHOG SEASON TO BE EXTENDED

R. I. House Passes Bill on Identification of Writers of Letters to Editors

[Special to the News]

PROVIDENCE, March 25—The house passed in concurrence this afternoon a bill authorizing Governor J. Howard McGrath to extend the open season on quahog dredging in the waters of the Seaconnet river for the duration of the present session of the legislature. The bill came from the senate in amended form and after being passed by the house it was sent to governor for signature.

The Senate passed a bill that would extend the season for taking quahogs in the same area, from October 1 to June 1. The present season is December 31 to March 31.

The house also passed a bill compelling persons writing letters to editors of newspapers to give their names and addresses and requiring that the identification be printed with the letters.

On recommendation of Representative Erich A. O'D. Taylor, Newport Democrat, the act prohibiting employers in Rhode Island from asking the race, color or religions of prospective employes was passed without opposition.

Adopted by the lower branch was an act designed to enable those who have served honorably in the armed forces to obtain employment in their former positions if they request it within 40 days of their discharge and if the positions still exist.

With the approval of Governor McGrath, the legislature has been asked to reduce from 20 to 10 years the length of time a lifetime prisoner must serve before being eligible to parole. It is planned to make the measure retroactive, provided it is passed. A special case is in mind, the governor said, but he did not disclose the identity.

Enlarging the Seaconnet river area where power dredging of quahogs would be permissible passed the state senate, after a favorable committee report. The senate amended the Erich A. O'D. Taylor bill, which passed the house. The amendment gives to the governor power to extend the season. The area is defined as that south of Mount Hope bridge.

Representative Taylor tried to have the house act immediately on the amended measure, but Representative Richard D. Windsor, Republican, had it put over until today to study the provisions.

RAILS IN UPTREND WITH INDUSTRIALS

Favorites Climb to Two or More Points, Many to Best Levels

[By Victor Eubank]

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Rails joined the industrials today in an extension of the stock market's upswing and favorites climbed fractions to two or more points, many to best levels for the year or longer.

Prominent stocks in the "new high" division included Warner Brothers, Paramount Pictures, Loew's, Twentieth Century-Fox, Youngstown Sheet, Willys-Overland, Goodyear, Goodrich, United States Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Pan American Airways, Nash-Kelvinator and American Smelting. In front were Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, United States Steel, Standard Oil of Indiana, Kennecott, Westinghouse and Boeing.

FROZEN FISH PRICES SET

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today fixed retail price ceilings on frzen fish on a flat mark-up-over-cost basis, displacing the previous ceiling set at each seller's, March 1942, level.

Small independent retailers—those having less than $250,000 annual gross sales—will establish their ceiling by multiplying the cost of fish to them by 1.28; other retailers multiply by 1.26.

SIXTH ESCIT SERIES STARTS AT DE LA SALLE

Maryland, New Hampshire Teams In Opener

Newporters to Meet Southern Team in Evening Game; State Finalist To Clash

The sixth annual ESCIT got underway this afternoon with La Salle of Cumberland meeting the New Hampshire entry, St. Joseph's of Manchester, but the interest of the Newport fans centered mostly on the second game between La Salle of Providence and St. Raphael of Pawtucket. These two Rhode Island teams were finalists in the state tournament, where St. Raphael defeated the Class A champions in the prize upset of the year.

The Newport backers will get their first real opportunity to back a home team in the first evening game when the Crusaders will take on the Southern quintet, Bishop England High of Charleston, S. C.

Although the record of the Crusaders this year is not as impressive as in some other seasons, the Hilltoppers will prove far from any team's pushover. Their record shows that five losses in the regular season were by a grand total of 13 points, or less than three per game.

The formal festivities opened this noon with a welcoming luncheon at the Hotel Viking. The visitors were addressed by Mayor Herbert E. Macauley, who extended the city's greetings, and by Dr. John H. Finn, chairman of the tournament committee. Private Harry Watterson was in charge of the affair and William Donovan served as master of ceremonies.

At 1:15 there was a meeting of all coaches, athletic directors and referees to outline policies for the series. At 2:30 the Rogers High School band gave a concert at De La Salle.

The entertainment program for the visitors has been curtailed somewhat because of war activities in this area, but there will still be enough attractions to keep the players busy.

Friday's schedule includes a luncheon with an address by Joe Delaney, All-American, gridder from Holy Cross, and at present coach at Rogers High and a talk by Pat Kennedy, the leading referee in basketball circles.

In the afternoon there will be the consolation games, while the semi-finals will be held starting at 7:30 in the evening.

Other activities for the players will include a roller skating party for the eliminated teams and girls of Rogers High School and St. Catherine Academy.

The officials, coaches and athletic directors of teams playing here held their first get-together

HOTEL OPERATORS GIVE VIEWS ON RATIONING

Food to Be Cut From December Amounts

Local Group Hopes For Allowance to Care For Peak of Business in Summer

The operators of the three leading hotels here expressed varying viewpoints today on how meat, butter and fat rationing will work out for them under the new schedule announced Wednesday. Starting next week, they will have to get along on 75 to 80 per cent of the amount used in December, according to OPA.

This ratio holds for the city's many restaurants and boarding houses, confronted as they are with the task of feeding numerous war workers and others brought here in the present emergency. The proprietors, as far as could be learned, will do what they can and hope for the best.

R. Havilland Staples, manager of the Viking, said today it is proposed to have more substitute meals, such as vegetables, egg and fish, not now rationed. When warmer weather comes, emphasis will be placed on salads. He said a definite plan had not been worked out.

Another factor in saving of meat, Mr. Staples said, was the fact that the Viking is not encouraging banquets of large gatherings at which there will be a meat demand.

Peter Mongini, manager of the Muenchinger-King, said that he could fulfill meat demands there, provided OPA made good its promise to give 75 to 80 per cent.

"The problem is where to get meat, butter and fats," he said.

"We will have to try it and see how it works," Mrs. Philippe LaForge of the LaForge said. "If it does not work out, we will see what we can do."

Mrs. LaForge pointed out, as did the other managers, that December was a poor month for comparison in Newport, as the season's peak is reached during the summer. It was hoped that allowance would be made for this.

Restaurants and other institutional eating places will be limited to 75 per cent or less of the amount of meat, butter, cheese and similar products they used last December when the point rationing program goes into effect Monday, the Office of Price Administration says.

Two mathametical methods will be used to determine the restaurant ration, OPA said Wednesday night in making the announcement. One is to cut seven per cent off the number of persons served during December, and the other trims 25 per cent off the point value of products used. Whichever gives the small-

MARETH LINE GUNS DUEL; STIMSON CITES AIR BLOWS

Predicts Progress, Looks For Heavy Casualties; Three Soviet Prongs Move Against Smolensk

AMERICAN FLIERS OUTSHOOT ENEMY

Dominate African Skies By Wide Margin, War Secretary Reports

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson today predicted favorable progress in the Tunisian campaign, but said it would be paid for with heavy casualties.

He attributed successes in the Tunisian campaign in part to the series of heavy day and night bombing attacks on Germany and German-occupied territory. These attacks, he told a press conference, make it necessary for Germany to keep large numbers of fighting planes at home.

Stimson said, American planes have dominated the skies, shooting down "three or four times as many enemy planes as we have lost.

"But it must be remembered that the grim and conclusive work must be done on the ground. Our ground forces have more than proved themselves against Rommel's forces."

In the air over Tunsia, he said the concentration of British and American aircraft in the north is "probably the heaviest in the history of North America."

Great damage, Stimson continued, has been inflicted on enemy tanks, motorized equipment and planes.

The German people, Stimson said, are "demanding greater fighting plane protection" against American and British bombing raids. And "since Germany does not know where we will strike next, she is forced to disperse these planes throughout the entire country and occupied territory."

The War Secretary referred specifically to two recent raids on Vegesack, near Bremen, and on Wilhelmshaven as "remarkably successful." Photographs taken after the raid on Vegesack, a submarine repair base, confirmed heavy destruction and accuracy of the bombing, he said.

FDR GETS CEILING BILL

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the White House today legislation lifting the ceiling on the national debt to $210,000,000,000 and repealing President Roosevelt's executive order limiting salaries to $25,000 after taxes.

Final legislative action came on adoption of a conference report accepting the Senate's own version of the repealer, approved overwhelmingly Wednesday by the House.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, 25 (AP)—United States troops repulsed heavy Nazi armored attacks in the Gafsa sector and made local gains in the Maknassy area of the central Tunisian front while the battle of the Mareth Line dwindled to artillery duelling after four days of bitter fighting, it was announced today.

Military quarters said strong resistance and rigorous counter-attacks by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces prevented further major Allied gains for the time being and, in some cases, wiped out advances achieved a few days earlier.

Advices from the southern Tunisian front late Wednesday night were that German counter-assaults had largely wiped out the advances made by the British 8th Army in driving a wedge into the upper end of the Mareth Line.

In sight of the battling ground troops, British and American light bombers hammered important Axis armored positions near the town of Mareth.

In the communique today there was no mention of the task force that flanked Rommel's positions and was last reported eight miles from El Hamma, Axis air base at the rear of the fortifications and 20 miles west of Gabes.

Field despatches said United States troops won control of the last mountain chain overlooking the coastal plain and Axis supply routes between Maknassy and the Gulf of Gabes after beating back Axis armored forces in the region of El Guetar, itself 12 miles southeast of Gafsa on the road to Gabes.

American air forces bombed Axis troops and installations almost continuously in support of the forces of both Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., in the Gafsa sector and General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery in the south.

Flying Fortresses launched a heavy attack on Ferryville, near Bizerte, which is now one of the main Tunisian ports of entry for Axis supplies. Observers said heavy damage was done to the docks and bomb-set fires sent flames 500 feet into the air.

Three merchant vessels were believed to have been hit. An RAF pilot, one of the escort made up of British Spitfires and American Lightning fighters, said the bombing was the most accurate he had ever seen.

GERMAN DRIVE ON DONETS EASES

Nazis Claim Russians Suffered Heavy Losses Below Lake Ladoga

MOSCOW, March 25 (AP)—The Red army's slogged drive through slush, ice and mud toward Smolensk has made fresh headway in three directions and German attacks in an effort to control the northern Donets River valley are slacking after their setbacks at the hands of the Soviet defenders, the Russians said today.

The mid-day communique announced that additional villages were taken on the Smolensk front as Soviet troops broke through the outlying defenses of the city.

The Soviets' sharpest thrust appeared to be north of Dukhovshchino, which is 32 miles northeast of the big German garrison city. The war bulletin said that in this sector the Red army troops battled hand-to-hand with the Germans in an unidentified settlement that had been heavily fortified, after hurling grenades to clear their path.

South of this sector a Russian column was reported moving toward the district center of Dorogobuzh, 13 miles below the Moscow-Vyazma-Smolensk railway and 50 miles east of Smolensk. The battle to take the city, which lies in a swampy area cut by the Dnieper river and many small streams, was considered now only a part of a large-scale offensive to control the upper Dnieper.

Fierce counter-attacks, with heavy concentrations of heavy artillery to back up their infantry, were being mounted by the Germans, a despatch to Red Star, the army newspaper, said.

The German high command

CRITIC TO SPEAK AT ART ASSOCIATION

Miss Dorothy Adler Will Lecture On "The Great Caricaturists" Saturday

Miss Dorothy Adlow, art critic of the Christian Science Monitor, will give an illustrated lecture at the Art Association Saturday afternoon. Her subject will be "The Great Caricaturists."

Miss Adlow speaks regularly at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. She has lectured at most of the museums and women's clubs of New England, at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh and the Albright Art Gallery in Buffalo. She is instructor in art at the Katherine Gibbs School and was recently visiting lecturer in art at Colorado College. As an art critic, she has been in contact with all phases of contemporary art in Europe and the United States.

Hostesses at tea following are Mrs. Marian Vale Car, Miss Roberta G. King, Miss Adaleide de Bethune and Miss Mary P. Teehan.

PRIORY STUDENTS LEAVE FOR HOLIDAYS

Vacation Period to Last to April 1; Summer School Plans Arranged

Portsmouth Priory students left for their spring recess, Wednesday after attending a mass, celebrated by Dom E. Gregory Borgstedt, headmaster in the chapel. The holidays will last to April 1 with the students enrolled for the Navy V-12 and Army A-12 tests returning a day previously.

The tests for military training at colleges will be supervised by Dr. Francis I. Brady, assistant headmaster, and Robert Covell, instructor in mathematics. Qualifying examinations are scheduled for Friday, April 2.

Albert J. Salvan of Brown University will be at the Priory April 10 to conduct college board entrance examinations.

Arrangements have been tentatively completed for the summer school for boys of the upper forms, 12 to 17 years old, plans calling for enrollees to take courses leading to additional curricular subjects in the regular school year. Agricultural training at the sumer camp is also planned.

The courses include fire fighting and rescue, signaling, first aid, electricity and radio, aeronautics and navigation. On the farm in charge of Dom Hilary Martin, O. S. B., with Dom Placid Cormey, O. S. B., in charge of cultivation, students will work with vegetables, 18 cows, 58 sheep, 10 pigs and 600 hens. The camp program includes summer sports.

FIRE DAMAGES BUILDING AT ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL

Nearly All Furnishings, Equipment Destroyed

Tuck Shop Housed Cafeteria

Cause of Blaze Undetermined

Fire early this morning extensively damaged the Tuck Shop, the cafeteria at St. George's School, Paul T. Christie, a master at the school, who was on duty at a nearby airplane observation tower, saw smoke coming from the small wooden structure about 2:30 A. M. He called the Middletown fire department which found the structure west of the athletic field burning briskly.

The firemen were able to save the walls but the roof and practically all of the interior furnishings and equipment were destroyed. Fire Chief James W. Barker said no definite cause of the fire could be determined. He explained it was possible that the fire originated in one of the electric units. These include grills, toasters, percolators and freezers.

St. George's own fire fighting squad, which includes a chemical truck and a hose wagon, helped to hold the flames in check until the Middletown apparatus could reach the scene.

The Tuck Shop was built in 1934. It served approximately 40 meals on each of the four days a week it was in operation. J. Vaughan Merrick, 3d, headmaster, said the loss of the building would be almost covered by its insurance and would be replaced when materials and equipment might be available. Profits of the Tuck shop have been used for years for the school camp.

WOMEN MARINES START COURSE

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—The first group of 85 New England women inducted into the Women's Reserve of the Marine Corps left today for Hunter College, New York City, where they will receive primary training as privates after which they will become eligible for non-commissioned posts.

Miss Bernice E. Phillips of the Roxbury district was designated as leader of the group. They will train with WAVES AND SPARS at Hunter.

week, beginning with the A stamps next Monday. Once valid, the stamps continue to be useable through the entire month of April. Thus the A stamps are good next week, but they can be saved and used, if the householder desires throughout the month.

The expected reduction in point values for canned goods likely will be of particular benefit to purchasers of canned fruits and larger size cans of both fruits and vegetables. In some few instances, point values may be increased.

The adjustment was described by officials as the normal type of change that can be expected from time to time.

As was to be expected, officials said, many point values were set so high that people would not buy. Now, after nearly a month's actual experience, the points can be adjusted in line with realistic public reaction.

Some of the pressure for change came from stores that reported practically no sales of canned goods. However, many people had considerable stocks left over from pre-rationing days and probably waited until the end of the month to see just what items they need most for their March stamps.

STATE GUARD TO TEST MOBILIZATION OF UNITS

To Hold Practice Coincident With Blackout

R. I. Body to Recommend Use of Pennant to Identify Emergency Vehicles

Coincident with the state-wide blackout test Monday evening, it was announced today that the State Guard, including Company F of this city, will hold a test mobilization of all units that night. The executive committee of the State Council of Defense has voted to draw up a plan for joint action with the State Guard, in case of emergency.

Brigadier General Peter Leo Cannon, the adjutant general, announced the State Guard mobilization test will be on a voluntary basis. He said it is necessary in connection with raid drills because of the "strong possibility that any actual air raid may be accompanied by invasion attempts, either by parachute troops or by sea-bourne forces or by organized uprising on the part of fifth column groups."

He authorized all officers and men of the State Guard and the State Guard Reserve to proceed to their armories or prearranged assembly points when the first blue signal is sounded. The units will be dismissed when the all clear signal is given over the radio.

General Cannon indicated that mobilization of the State Guard may be planned in conjunction with future air raid and blackout drills in the state.

The State Defense executive committee voted to recommend to the State Council at its meeting Friday, that a pennant be used to identify emergency vehicles in times of disaster, rather than the emergency E sticker now in use. This action was taken at the request of the army's Eastern Defense Command.

The executive committee made public a directive from Dean James M. Landis, director of the national office of Civilian Defense, to the effect that Civilian Defense staff personnel is eligible for compensation from the federal government in case of injury resulting from enemy action in the line of duty.

The appointment of J. Harry Magnuson, chairman of the Burrville council, to replace Frederick J. Andersen, was approved. Andersen has resigned because of ill health. Magnuson, who was Director of the Protection Division, is to be succeeded by John B. Stratford.

Wednesday, a session that became more or less a small version of an old fashioned "old-home week," as old acquaintances renewed their contacts and others compared notes and discovered mutual interests and associates.

Dr. Finn presided and welcomed the incoming guests. Coaches from other schools compared records and discussed activities for today. The coach session took on the aspect of a "giant" affair when William "Stretch" Kreiger of St. Peters, Francis Reavey of La Salle of Providence and Joe Delaney, Rogers coach and a member of the ESCIT committee got together. None of the group is under six feet three inches tall, and when they were joined by the Rev. Father Bogan of Maryland, about six feet seven, it became a meeting "in the air." Most of the conversation was "over the head" of Coach Ed Larkin of De La Salle.

Some of the visiting teams that arrived early worked out Wednesday afternoon at the Academy. Others were busy this morning working out the final kinks before the play started.

St. Peter's this year has two players named Bornheimer who will be watched closely by those who recall "Bill" Bornheimer, All-Tourney center on the 1938 championship team. John, listed as a center this year is only 15 years old but is six feet four inches tall while Walter, also a center is five eleven.

Word has been received that Joe Mack, former De La Salle mentor, now in the army, has made reservations to attend the games, while several men now in the armed forces here, who played in previous tournaments are also planning to see some of the action.

LIONS CLUB HEARS OF FIRE PREVENTION

Coast Guard Officer Tells of Controls in Waterfront Areas Here

Lieutenant Commander Ernest W. Williams, U. S. C. G., spoke at the Lions Club luncheon at the Viking this noon, on "Fire Prevention and Fire Control" which his branch controls along the water front. Introduced by William A. Johnson, the speaker explained in considerable detail the cooperation of Newport with the efforts of his service.

Speaking of losses resulting from waterfront fires, Commander Williams declared these could be eliminated by first finding and then eliminating possible causes.

In specific reference to the local waterfront the commander said that in some sections of the harbor line, fire losses would not prove disastrous but, if the taxpayers realize that a portion of their money goes for public safety, they might be interested in a move to remove the hazards, and assure themselves of getting full benefit for their payments.

Clifford Menz, presented by Hugo R. A. Anthony, spoke briefly in the interests of the Civic Music membership campaign. Guests welcomed by J. Fred Sherman, president, included Thomas Beck, Roland Crowell, Lieutenant Abel S. Eldridge and Fireman Frank George of the Newport Fire Department; Francis MacBride, Boston; John Manchester, Boston; Joseph Wright, Providence and Ray Davis, New Bedford.

RED CROSS WAR FUND GETS GIFT OF $500

Total Figures Rise Close to $45,000 Mark

Greek Groups Stage Drive; Naval Stations Expected to Send In Substantial Sums

With $500 received from Mrs. Bigelow Clark, the Red Cross War Fund today neured the $45,000 mark of the $63,000 quota with the drive scheduled to end the last of this month. War Fund officials today were more optimistic as new sums were added.

Large sums are expected from the Naval Training and Torpedo Stations. Middletown will add substantially to the fund, it was said.

The Greek War Relief Society and the Order of Ahepa are staging a national drive today, Greek Independence Day, as a means of aiding the War Fund. Officers of the Ahepa here are contacting all Greek business men today and will probably continue Friday in furtherance of the effort.

Collections received from the War Fund tables at the banks and post offices amounted to $196.55 in the last two days.

Other sums were:

$50—Bowen Coal Company.

$25—D. J. Sullivan, Coal Company, Captain and Mrs. Chauncey Shackford.

$15—St. Paul's M. E. S. Club.

CHURCHILL ON FLEETS

Tells of Substantially Largo Number of Ships

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared today that the United Nations "have afloat substantially larger fleets than they had at the worst moment in the U-boat war, and this improvement is continuing."

The statement was made in reply to a question in the House of Commons on shipping losses.

Rear Admiral Tufton Percy Beamish, Conservative, had asked the price minister if he were aware of the recent German claim that 6-boats sank more than 30 ships out of a 200,000-ton Atlantic convoy.

Churchill said he declined to "clarify enemy knowledge on this matter."

U-BOAT CENTER CRIPPLED

UNITED STATES EIGHTH BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, England, March 25 (AP)—The United States Flying Fortress-Liberator raid on the Vegesack submarine and shipbuilding yards last Thursday "has crippled that base for a considerable period," Brigadier General Newton Longfellow, chief of the Eighth Bomber Command, said today.

The raid on the U-boat supply center and railroad yards at Rennes, March 3, was considered by transportation evaluation experts as probably the most devastating raid of its kind in this war," Longfellow said.

POLICE PROBE THEFT OF DIAMOND RINGS

Jewelry Valued at $1,748 Stolen From Store Window

Tilden Thurber Tray Believed Taken While Employes Were Waiting on Customers

Newport police today bent every effort to solve the theft of a tray of nine diamond rings valued at $1,748 from the display window of the Tilden Thurber store at 160 Thames street Wednesday afternoon.

The thief, police believe, reached from the inside through an opening into the window and removed the plush-lined case while a window dresser who had been at work there was in the rear of the store, and other employes were occupied.

There were several customers in the store, both men and women. Miss Natalie G. Clarke, manager, was out at the time and Mrs. Marion Sprague, a clerk, was waiting on two women who are well-known and not implicated.

Norman Robinson, the window dresser, said to have been in the employ of the firm for 20 years, had left the window to go to the rear of the store. Mrs. Sprague finished waiting on her customers and walked past the window. She noticed the tray was missing.

Captain Henry E. Madden, assigned to the case by Police Chief Edward C. Sullivan when the call came to headquarters, immediately sent Assistant Inspectors John J. Connolly and Walter C. Shea with Robinson after the 2:30 o'clock Providence bus, feeling that the thief might have made a hasty exit from the store in time to catch it.

The bus was caught at Mount Hope bridge and Robinson looked over the passengers, but could identify none of them as having been in the store. State Police were notified and kept watch. A message was also flashed out on the nine-state teletype.

Police have a description of a man Mrs. Sprague said was in the store at the time. It was said the tray was in the front part of the window and a long reach would have been necessary to get it. A glass stand was tipped over while the tray was being taken.

16 FLOUR FIRMS INDICTED

Charged With Conspiracy to Fix Prices

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—A Federal grand jury indicted 16 flour milling firms, including General Mills, Inc., and the Pillsbury Flour Milling Company, on charges of conspiracy to fix prices of packaged family flour, the kind ordinarily sold for use in homes throughout the United States.

Also named in the indictment were 11 executives of the firms and the Millers' National Federation, a trade association. The indictment said that 81 per cent of the approximately 45,000,000 barrels of family flour sold annually in the nation was milled by members of the federation.

The indictment charged the defendants met from time to time and agreed upon a uniform schedule of price differentials to be applied to the various sizes of packages in which the flour is sold. The Millers' Federation, the Government alleged, published and circulated printed schedules of uniform price differentials which the defendants used in making up their price list.

MRS. JOHN MEDEIROS RITES

The funeral of Mrs. Santina Russo Medeiros, wife of John Medeiros and daughter of Joseph and Julia Gerardi Russo of 10 West Extension street, was held this morning from the O'Neill Funeral Home to St. Mary's Church, where a mass of requiem was said by the Rev. Edward P. Boland, assistant pastor. The bearers were William Garrison, Herbert Read, Charles Cory, Daniel Sheehan, George Ford and John La Chappelle. Burial was in St. Columba's cemetery.

ORDER RESTRAINS KIN

In the superior court before Judge Walter Curry today, Ella P. Mahan obtained a preliminary injunction restraining her brother, William J. Mahan, from trespassing on her property. She was represented by Judge John C. Burke. The temporary injunction replaced a previously issued restraining order.

This was the only business before the court, which adjourned until Friday morning.

MRS. F. CHASE DIES

13 NAVY CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The navy announced today 13 casualties in navy forces, including five dead, four wounded and four missing.

This brings to 24,544 the total of navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 6,928 dead, 4,644 wounded and 12,972 missing.

The casualties announced today included no one from Rhode Island.

"ANCHORS AWEIGH" TO REALIZE $2,500

Red Cross War Fund Assured Success With Sellout, Dress Rehearsal Held

Newport Chapter, Red Cross, will realize about $2,500 for its War Fund from the benefit performance of "Anchors Aweigh" Friday evening at the Paramount Theatre. This was assured today when the last of 1,200 available seats were sold, Schuyler L. Parsons, general chairman, announced. Seat applications are being taken, in case of possible cancellations.

Those who witnessed the dress rehearsal Wednesday evening said "Anchors Aweigh" exceeded expectations, being crammed with comedy, good music and action. Lieutenant Commander Dunn and Lieutenant Freeman are the producers, aided by Dr. Edward F. Hoeppner and others of the Major Bowes organization.

The audience is requested to be seated before 8:20, when Governor J. Howard McGrath and the official party will arrive, and to remain seated until after the official party leaves.

TO PROBE SUGAR PROSPECTS

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Chairman Harry S. Truman, Democrat, Missouri, of the Senate war investigating committee, Wednesday ordered an inquiry into reports that OPA plans to "make it difficult" to obtain sugar for home canning. OPA officials told reporters a proposal to require blue ration stamps for canning sugar has been under discussion, but added it is not likely to be adopted because Prentiss M. Brown, the OPA administrator, is not convinced of its necessity.

MINE CAVE-IN IN PENNSYLVANIA

Ground Sinks From Under Buildings; Red Cross, Police Evacuate Area

PITTSTON, Pa., March 25 (AP)—A rumbling mine cave-in—the worst in the eastern Pennsylvania anthracite fields in several years—struck this mining city of 18,000 Wednesday night and the ground is still sinking today from under more than 150 cracked and twisted homes and buildings.

The police and fire departments said there was no indication of when the earth sagging would cease.

Yawning crevices developed in lawns and pavements. Houses and trees swayed, tilted and sank. Water and gas mains snapped. Firemen reported holes 20 to 25 feet deep and estimated the overall sinking at from two to eight feet in varying sectors. A $400,000 High School building was so badly cracked that firemen feared its walls would collapse.

The subsidence—over the shaft of the N. 9 mine of the Pagnotti enterprises—began at 7:30 p. m. in an area of eight blocks, all residential.

Red Coss disaster units, civilian defense workers and the police evacuated the section, and armed guards were posted to prevent householders from returning to salvage belongings.

About 120 miners working in one section of the mine, underlying the affected area, were ordered to leave by the nearest exits.

More than 50 worshipers fled a mission service at the Mount Carmel Catholic Church, on the edge of the section, and 100 student musicians ran panicky from a band rehearsal in the auditorium of the High School.

A hole 30 feet deep and 30 feet wide developed on the lawn of an estate on Fulton street. In the basement of a home on Williams street there was a hole big enough to bury an automobile.

Earth fissures spread out like a spider web from the school building, which firemen said was directly over the center of the pull. A witness reported a crack a foot wide in the school's basement floor.

Thomas J. Hennigan, president of the school board, said; "It is fortunate that this cave-in did not occur during school hours because a panic might have occurred and the lives of many of our children might have been lost."

He tentatively estimated damage to the building at $100,000 and said: "We intend to have restitution." The school board arranged to meet today with Mayor John J. Reilly.

It was the third subsidence in Pittston since November and the second in two months. Only one other, the last, was serious, and in that only about 50 buildings were damaged.

The Pennsylvania legislature only recently asked for federal funds to undertake a prevention program. A legislative commission two weeks ago, after a two-year study, recommended a program of "flushing"—or stuffing weak and abandoned shafts with debris.

GROVE WIRING CALLED GOOD

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—General wiring conditions at the Cocoanut Grove night club before the fire and panic, November 28, that took the lives of 490 persons, were reported as being "good" by a Boston fire department wire inspector who testified today before a superior court jury.

In answer to questions by defense counsel at the trial of Barnett Welansky, alleged owner of the club; his brother, James, who was in charge on the night of the holocaust, and Jacob Goldfine, wine steward, on charges of manslaughter arising from a grand jury probe of the blaze; Frank Kelly, an inspector in the wire department of the Boston fire department, testified that he had made an inspection November 17, just 11 days before the fire and found the conditions good.

51 MEN MISSING FROM U. S. SHIP

18 Crew Members Land in Boston; Tell of Torpedoing Late in February

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Eighteen members of the 73-man crew of an American merchantman reported today after landing in Boston that two Axis torpedoes virtually tore the bow from their craft in an attack in the Atlantic late in February.

After a night on two life rafts, survivors reported that they boarded a lifeboat in which they were adrift for 16 days before being picked up by an American naval vessel, 180 miles northwest of the scene of the sinking.

Of the 19 men who were rescued by the naval vessel, one died from illness with which he had been stricken before his ship was attacked. Three others were known to have been killed by the explosion, and 51 still are listed as missing.

Winfred L. Price of New Orleans, navigator of the torpedoed ship, said that "two torpedoes struck almost simultaneously and so nearly in the same spot that they virtually ripped the bow off just ahead of the bridge.

"The commanding officer of the gun crew (Ensign G. B. Wadkins, U. S. N. R. Monroe, La.) was killed by the explosion, and two enlisted members of the gun crew (unnamed) were hurled clear of the ship before the bow sank. Those two men swam to a doughnut raft and were picked up later on another raft.

"We tied the two rafts together and planned to divide our rations as far as they would go. Eight members of the gun crew, including the two who had been hurled from the bow of the ship, were on the other raft. All of us felt more secure once we were aboard the stray lifeboat.

"The 19 of us got along swell, never talking about our condition or what had happened to our ship. We sang songs and told stories, always doing our best to keep our minds off our desire for more filling food than our scanty rations."

The rations had stood by them well when they were rescued, but all were suffering from frozen feet and one sailor had an injured back.

Although airplanes searched the area where the ship sank, no trace of other survivors was found.

"I'm going to make it a point not to be at sea in February next year," commented Navigator Price, "Because a year ago, almost to a day, I escaped from another merchant ship when she was torpedoed in the Caribbean."

communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio, referred only in general terms to most of the long Russian front. I said that engagements of local importance "took a successful course" and that prisoners were taken and booty captured.

(The communique claimed that German forces had inflicted serious losses on Soviet forces attacking south of Lake Ladoga, below Leningrand, capturing several hundred prisoners, killing more than 1,000 Russians and annihilating one cut-of Soviet force. There was no Allied confirmation of activity on this front.)

In the battle for the upper Donets river valley, the Germans have been beaten back in every effort to establish bases on the eastern bank from Belgorod to Chuguev, and, smarting under blows that have caused terrific destruction to material and manpower, have relaxed the intensity of their assaults.

Wednesday night's communique and the mid-day communique mentioned a new direction, north of Chuguev, where the Nuzis tried to cross the river.

Red Star reported that "on the right bank of the river one can see heaps of burned and destroyed tanks," and said the Germans had slowed their pace.

In at least two sectors the invaders tried to surprise the Russians with flanking rushes. In one place 80 tanks, leading a truck column of infantry, were reported thrown back.

Fighting was going on for more bridgeheads in the Dnieper valley, north of Dorogobuzh, Red Star said, but in other sectors the Germans have been driven far west of the waterway.

"The right bank of another river flowing in a southwesterly direction has been entirely cleared of the enemy," the newspaper declared.

Dorogobuzh is not an easy objective to take, although the Red army seized it in last winter's offensive. It is like a small island surrounded by one river and many smaller streams, ponds, lakes and swamps.

The Dnieper rises just southwest of Rzhev, flowing almost due south until it is crossed by the Smolensk-Vyazma railway and highway 11 miles due east of already-captured Durovo. Then the river continues south to Dorogobuzh, turns abruptly westward and runs through Smolensk itself, then winds south to the Black sea through the industrial Ukraine.

Red Star reported that prisoners taken in the area said that they arrived recently from France.

WAR INSURANCE PREMIUMS

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The government War Damage Insurance Corporation has collected $100,000,000 in premiums without paying out a cent, Representative Kennedy, Democrat New York, told the House today, adding that he proposes to offer a resolution providing that the insurance be continued for a year without payment of further premiums.

"We ought to save the property owner this money," Kennedy said.

Individual portions are not restricted yet, but the Agriculture Department is considering such a limitation.

The general public was warned today by the OPA that any meat delivered after Sunday midnight will have to be paid for with coupons, regardless of when the meat was ordered. OPA sent out the warning after reports from a number of cities indicated the public believed that orders placed for meat this week could be delivered next week without being paid for by coupons.

Included in the list of foods not to be rationed are bread, milk, fruit and vegetables, poultry, jams and jellies, cereals, flour, bakery products, fresh, smoked and frozen fish, and such oils as mayonnaise and olive oil. Some cheeses, the imported varieties and soft cheeses that spoil quickly are also on the list of non-rationed foods.

KOLAH GROTTO TO HEAR MARINE MUSIC UNIT

New Drum, Trumpet Squad Will Give Program at Friday Meeting

The recently organized drum and trumpet squad of the Marine Corps barracks at Coddington Point will present a special program at the meeting of Kolah Grotto in Masonic Hall Friday evening. Harold G. Burdick, monarch, has been assured by Lieutenant Colonel Harold H. Utley, commanding the corps in this area, of cooperation.

Included in the program of selections is a new march, "Coddington Point", written by Corporal Louis Biagioni, band director and Private First Class Ellis. The director will make a "personal appearance" in imitations and novelty songs while other specialties include vocal numbers by Sergeant John LeConche; accordion solos by Private Anthony Calderone and imitations by Private First Class Harry Schroeder.

Opening with the "Marine Hymn", played and sung by members of the squad, the musical score includes the marches "Semper Fidelis", "Hail Pennsylvania", "Pearl Harbor", and "God Bless America", and "It's A Grand Old Flag."

RUML TAX PLAN HIT BY DOUGHTON

Calls It "Immoral;" Knutson Upholds System, With Some Modification

[By Francis M. Le May]

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, 73, of the ways and means committee, opened debate on pay-as-you-go tax legislation today with a denunciation of the Ruml skip-a-year plan as a "tax heresy"—a proposition "immoral and unsound."

"It is to sound tax policy what infidelity is to true Bible religion," he shouted. "It would bankrupt any business concern. No nation, state or other taxing jurisdiction has ever adopted such a system. . . . Our soldiers are not requesting forgiveness of a year's duty. In fact, many of them are called upon to give an entire lifetime in one moment of duty. Is this any time to forgive a year's tax liability?

Representative Knutson, Republican, Minnesota, a leader of Republican support behind the Ruml plan, prepared to answer Doughton, by declaring a modification of that plan, embraced in a bill by Representative Carlson, Republican, Kansas, was "progressive and forward looking"; that it provides the only "fair and practical" means of putting the nation's 44,000,000 income taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis, and that "there is only one thing wrong with the Ruml plan—the Treasury didn't think of it first."

Leading the Democratic opposition to the Ruml plan, Doughton declared:

"I feel that this is no time to experiment with will-o'-the wisp or polotical methods, which are conceived and brought forth for selfish or political reasons rather than patriotic motives. In my opinion, if the selfish and political considerations were eliminated from the Ruml plan, it would never get to bat, much less to first base....."

Doughton declared the Ruml plan would. Bestow the greatest benefit to those most able to pay taxes. Will result in a loss to the government of almost $10,000,000,000, and cause a shift in the tax burden to the lower income groups

He defended the tax collection bill presented to the House ways and means committee which, providing no abatement, would make pay-as-you-go optional with any taxpayer who elected to "double-up" to discharge the 1942 liability completely and begin immediately the payment of 1943 taxes.

Knutson distributed advance excerpts from his speech in reply to Doughton, declaring the committee bill would put small income taxpayers in a "straitjacket", and added:

"The Carlson bill prepares for the difficult post-war days ahead when many will be jobless and unable to pay their taxes—the committee bill prepares for nothing and would pin the odious label of "tax defaulters" on the breasts of the unfortunate."

MARETS LINE GUNS DUEL

Canopeners," and Hurricanes, knocked out 10 Axis tanks in forays over the Mareth Line positions at the other end of the front, despatches from Cairo said.

Low-flying planes attacked Rommel's formations south of El Hamma, hitting tanks, armored cars, gun carriers and trucks. (Presumably these had been marshaled to challenge the Allied threat to El Hamma from the south.)

Planes of the Northwest African Air Force got bursts among German armor opposing American troops in the Gafsa sector, especially in the pass that leads eastward from El Guetar.

Aerial support helped American ground forces to beat back repeated Nazi attacks, despatches from the front said.

Allied planes also struck again at enemy landing grounds, getting bursts among 40 to 60 planes on a field between Sfax and Gabes.

Captain John K. Hall of Denver, Col., who participated in the raid, said it was the best his formation had yet experienced. The escorting P-40 Warhawks shot down four enemy fighters in a 25-minute dogfight.

Hits were scored on grounded aircraft at a field south of Sousse.

In the Gafsa area German bombers were out in considerable strength, reports from the front said. Their attacks, coupled with fire from the Nazi 88-millimeter artillery batteries, gave Americans at some points the heaviest pounding they had ever undergone, but failed to break the United States lines.

It said that "from northern Tunisia there is nothing to report. (An Algiers broadcast recorded in London by Reuters earlier said that the British 1st Army had made a slight advance in northern Tunisia.)

price of food between 17 and 18 per cent.

The farm leaders said they understood the new administration was Mr. Roosevelt's counter-proposal to Bankhead and Pace bills. They agreed that centralization of control over farm prices under a man like Davis might tend to eliminate friction that has developed between the administration, on the one hand, and the Congressional farm bloc and farm organizations on the other, over farm policies.

The story being circulated has it that a representative of the White House approached Davis within the past few days relative to the post as food chief. Davis is reported to have agreed to take the job providing the administration met conditions which he outlined.

Those conditions were said to be —That he have complete control over determining farm prices, that he be the final authority on problems relating to food distribution; that he be given definite assurances that more steel would be made available for farm machinery, and that the War Manpower Commission adopt policies relating to farm Manpower which Davis outlined.

Farm leaders said they believed it would be necessary to have the price control law amended if Davis' reported condition on price control is to be met. The price law vests control of prices in the Office of Price Administration. The Secretary of Agriculture has power to veto ceiling prices on farm products, but his veto can be overridden by the economic stabilization director.

The price administrator's letter went to Senator Lucas, (Democrat, Illinois), president pro tempore of the Senate, who promised "the stiffest kind of a fight" if farm bloc leaders insist on calling for a Senate vote today on the Pace bill, to add farm labor costs to the crop parity formula.

...Help Save Oil Vital to the War Effort

Your government is appealing to you to conserve oil supplies vitally needed for war plants and the armed forces. Because oil is used in making gas, you can help by using less gas!

We are cooperating with the Petroleum Administration for War and the War Production Board in every way we can to save oil. You can help by using less gas today and everyday. The simple rules below show you how.

We know you will want to cooperate so that there will be no shortages of oil for our boys at the fighting fronts.

8 WAYS YOU CAN HELP SAVE GAS

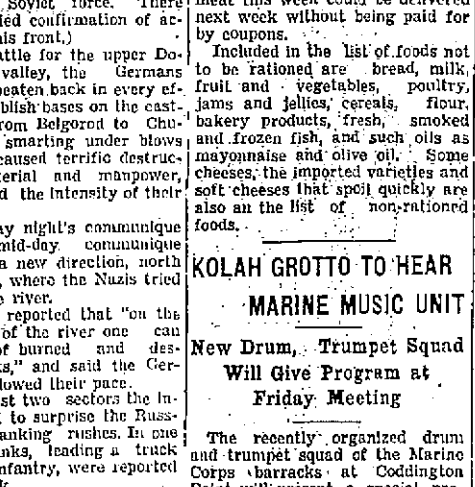

1 Do not use your Gas Range oven or top burners for heating your kitchen.
2 Cook whole meals in oven.
3 Cook "one-dish" meals on top burners.
4 Don't wash hands, shave or wash dishes in running hot water. Repair leaky faucets.
5 Use as little hot water as possible. Heat no more water than necessary. Turn off burner promptly.
6 Keep room temperatures at 65° or lower.
7 Close bedroom doors at night. Close off unused rooms.
8 Never leave refrigerator door open. Cool cooked foods before placing in refrigerator.

EARLY STAND SEEN ON POST-WAR PLAN

Administration Leaders Believed Working on Tentative Drafts of Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—In spite of reported reluctance in high quarters to stir the cauldron of Senate debate now on post-war international collaboration, the administration's hand appeared today to have been forced by those who seek an early declaration of Congressional intentions.

Apparently convinced that the issue must be settled without regard to timing, administration leaders were understood to be at work already on tentative drafts of a proposal that they are expected to offer as a substitute for a half dozen pending resolutions.

Several of these resolutions offer blue prints for immediate and after-war collective action by the United Nations bu the administration's lieutenants are expected to favor something extremely simple in form and vague in commitments.

One discussed draft would state merely that it is the sense of the Senate that the United States will co-operate fully with its Allies in the vigorous prosecution of the war and collaborate with them in preserving world peace afterward.

Such a declaration would be calculated to avoid embarrassing demands in the Senate for a specific statement of our allies' as well as our own post-war intentions regarding territory and other matters and—its propenents hope—might be passed by a substantial vote.

The situation is such, however, that administration officials conceded privately they must bring the matter to a vote in some form or encourage a world assumption than the United States is likely to remain isolationist in its views. Thus they could not let the half dozen pending proposals slumber in committee, as suggested by some.

Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, author of one of the measures, said that as he sized up the matter any failure on the part of the Senate to act now would be construed as inability to act because of dissension over the course to be followed.

"In that event," he said, "our Allies would assume, and rightly so, that the possibility of obtaining unified action with us after the war was remote."

A Republican Senator who has taken an isolation viewpoint in the past agreed with this analysis. The fat is in the fire, said this Senator, who declined use of his name, and the issue will have to be decided one way or another.

PACKERS STRESS SOURCE OF MEAT

Say Point Value Will Not of Itself Guarantee Amount Available

(By William Ferris)

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—The meat packing industry today wanted to get across one fact to the public—meat comes from livestock, not from ration books, and the establishment of point values will not of itself guarantee the amount of meat available.

Estimates of how much meat you can get if you use your points in this or that manner are all highly theoretical—you may have the points, but the question is will the butcher have the meat?

During April the government will take between 30 and 80 per cent of all meat produced in federally inspected packing plants. The smallest government purchases will be of veal, at 30 per cent, and the largest for lower quality beef, at 80 per cent.

It is estimated government buying in April will consume 35 per cent of all lamb and mutton, 45 per cent of all pork and 50 per cent of all beef produced in these plants.

With government purchasing on this scale, it is obvious to packers that anyone who expects to see previously half-empty butcher cases suddenly bulge with steaks and chops next week, simply because rationing is in effect, will suffer a sad disillusionment.

Packers pointed out, also, that the peak season for hog slaughter had passed—on the basis of past years hog marketings during the next several months should be less than in January and February. Sheep slaughter also normally declines during the spring and summer months. There is usually a slight falling-off in cattle slaughter, that expands again in September and October.

The normal spring downturn in shipments already is well under way, according to the Department of Agriculture. Butchering at 27 principal centers in the first three weeks of March showed a decline of two per cent in cattle, 14 per cent in lamb and mutton and eight per cent in hogs from the first three weeks of February.

Rationing will prevent anyone from obtaining an unfair proportion of the total meat supply, and thus will even-out distribution, packers said.

But with meat production destined to slump during summer months, packers said the only way the public can have the amount of meat it has been obtaining would be for a reduction in government buying—and that would have to come in the face of a rapidly expanding army and navy.

MRS. EDWIN KINGSLEY DIES IN JAMESTOWN

Mrs. Harriett A. Kingsley, wife of the late Edwin A. Kingsley, died Wednesday evening at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Hobson of Melrose avenue, Jamestown. She was born 73 years ago in Lincoln, R. I., daughter of the late Benjamin and Rhoda Arnold. She had been in poor health for several years.

Besides her daughter, she leaves two grandchildren, Miss Rhoda E. Hobson, assistant dietician at the Newport Hospital, and Bruce C. Hobson of Jamestown.

Funeral services will be held at the home of her daughter at 1 P. M. Saturday. Burial will be in Pawtucket.

NO. 13 LUCKY FOR SOLDIER

Feels Convinced After Half-Track Was Blown From Under Him

WITH AMERICAN FORCES NEAR EL GUETAR, Tunisia, March 23 (Delayed) (AP)—Corporal Milton Jones of Mechanics Falls, Maine, is convinced that number 13 is lucky—lucky for him even though a half-track bearing that number was blown out from under him today by two-German "88" shells.

"The other four guys and I got out alive, and when you walk away from those 88's in one piece, that proves you're lucky," the freckle-faced little driver declared as he told how his vehicle was lost after knocking out two Mark IV tanks during a German attempt to break through the hills to El Guetar valley.

"That old half-track had 13 painted on each door, was delivered to us March 13, arrived on the thirteenth car on a freight train and we carried 13 rounds of armor-piercing ammunition when we went up to battle," Jones said.

BASEBALL SEEN AS MORALE AID

Umpire Who Worked In Jap Games Cites Orient's Awe of U. S. Players

(By Russ Newland)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25 (AP)—The plea has been made that baseball should be retained because of its morale uplift value to Americans. Umpire Hap O'Connor contends its abandonment now would bolster the morale of the Japanese.

He should know. He has umpired games in Japan.

O'Connor sums up his opinion like this:

"The Japs so envy us for our baseball prowess and our intense love for the game that to call it off during war time would be like a tonic to them. I think they would construe it to mean we were becoming panicky or something in this country."

Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, twice top hitter of the National League and current San Francisco Seals manager, lines up on the same side of the unique argument.

O'Doul has had a close-up view of the Japanese baseball complex, when barnstorming tours of American All-star teams in the Orient was a popular off-season diversion, he was one of the outstanding figures. He was regarded a superman by the Japanese. They would gaze at him in awe. O'Doul in turn would stand them on their hands with an ailing arm dinky curve that any minor leaguer could lean on.

On one trip they presented him with a bat eight feet long, a tribute to his slugging prowess.

O'Connor, who never tipped his cap as a big league arbiter but has served the semi-pros and colleges as an umpire for 25 years, also made a trip to Japan. He was not the hero O'Doul was, but he umpired the games and reserved these anecdotes:

"Our teams beat the Japs so one-sided it was terrible. Scores of 15 and 20-0. And they could have been 10-0. They were supposed to be pretty good players but the results got to be so lop-sided they wouldn't come out for the games. We had to put in second stringers to make them look good.

"They aped everything we did, including our walk and gestures.

"I never saw one of them hit a home run all the time I was there. They were great for the old squeeze play, bunting, etc. They had more signs for plays at the bat and on the bases than one of our national highways.

Every kid going to school in the morning wore a baseball cap and a glove tied to his belt. A lot of them wore baseball suits to school.

"I read where the Japanese have given up the game because it is too much U. S. A. stuff. They probably figured they never would beat us at it anyhow, which seems like a good frame of mind to keep them in."

MORE TEAMS FILE FOR SUNSET LEAGUE

List Now Totals Nine; Board Pays Tribute to the Late Chester P. Arnold

At a meeting of the Sunset league held at the recreation office in the city hall Wednesday night, it was announced that the Marines, Melville Net Depot and Melville MTB had made formal application to join the league. This brings the list of teams to nine. There is some doubt whether all of the six hold-over teams will play.

The Constellation, league champion last year, 10th Coast Artillery, runner-up, Torpedo Station Civilians and the Naval Torpedo Station teams are considered as certain entries this year. The Section Base, cellar champs last season, was not represented at the meeting and there was some doubt that the MCM nine would play this year because so many of the players are in the service.

A minute of silence was observed as a tribute to the late Chester P. Arnold, who was identified with the Sunset league for many years.

Captain Maurice Palizza of the 11th Coast Artillery said Cardines Field was the best his team played on last year.

The board of directors welcomed Joseph S. Lehane, as one of the new directors of the league. Daniel J. Kehew, Jr., league president, presided.

SERVICE LEAGUE GAME

The Melville MTB and the Melville Net Depot will meet at Rogers High School gymnasium tonight in a playoff to decide which team shall meet Quonset Air Station in the finals of the Rhode Island Service League basketball tournament.

GOMEZ MATCHES STENGEL'S WIT

Hurler Proves Fast on The Answers; Bruin Icemen Ready For Battle

[By Steve O'Leary]

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—After some exposure to the spontaneous clowning of "Casey" Stengel, this department is inclined to the idea that he may have met his match when the Braves decided to sign up the well known "Lefty" Gomez.

"Case" dipped his banners himself to the "goofy" one only Wednesday when "Lefty" parlayed one of his wise-cracks into a Gomez immortal ..."That's one guy, at least," mumbled Casey, "which doesn't get his answers out of any book."...

Stengel merely had remarked that some photographer should get a picture of Gomez perspiring after a hectic workout..."That's one the Yankees would like to see," Stengel added...

"Never had a chance to sweat with the Yanks," blurted Gomez.. "Never lasted more than four innings."...

Even better was his remark on arriving at Wallingford as the Choate School's station wagon drove him past the main-stem cemetery...

"Say, Bud," remarked Gomez, "would you mind stopping there and see if I can dig up an arm—a left one."...

Best of all, though, in this department's book was the Gomez sparkler of a few years back when he and his wife were having domestic difficulties...They patched that up and the vulcanizing was good. But, anyway, Lefty decided that he and June should make the next Western swing with the Yanks...They arrived in St. Louis and an alert reporter noted the lovely Mrs. Gomez and queried Lefty: "Ah, I see Mrs. Gomez is with you—everything okay again, huh?"...

"Well, she ain't here to pitch," snapped Lefty...

It would seem that Master Stengel had better look to his laurels... as though he didn't have enough trouble now, trying to figure out just what kind of a ball team he can collar from his current mess of trouble what with established stars dropping off day by day...

In the trouble department, the rumors are that plenty of it may break out in Montreal tonight when our Bruins continue against the Canadiens in their quest for a Stanley Cup playoff spot. There has been bad blood between the teams ever since the Bruins, at the season's end, almost knocked the Montreal team out of a playoff berth...The ill-feeling has been apparent in the games here and the blood-letting needs only a spark to be set off in earnest..

We understand that Mervyn Dutton, now acting as NHL president, has acquired considerable dignity and is somewhat averse to blood-letting in playoff games—a distinct departure from his attitude as a player...The report is that he'll read the riot act to both teams before they hit the ice tonight and that will be a good thing for the boys have been building up to an old-fashioned donnybrook which might do hockey no particular good at a time like this..

The Bruins, incidentally, will be very thankful to take one of those two games in Montreal and come home with a three-one edge ...That'll give them almost a shoo-in chance at the finals... They're likewise not averse to taking both Montreal games to wrap it up, before they get home but they're not too optimistic...

ARMSTRONG CONFIDENT

Veteran Denies Story of Being "Broke"

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Henry Armstrong hit town today to get ready for the biggest shot of his comeback campaign, and he looked like anything but a guy suffering "from hunger."

The story was that Hennery was broke, that his bankroll was as empty as the ice box in your neighborhood butcher shop and that he had to come back to the ring to eat regularly. But Henry laughed.

I've never missed a meal," he said as he began his first gym work today for his tea-party with Beau Jack April 2—a party, incidentally, which figures to draw a mere $100,000 into Madison Square Garden.

"Not only have I never missed a meal," the Hammer went on, "but I've never had to worry about putting meat and potatoes on the table.

I came back because I was challenged. I was burned up when all the so-called wise guys said I was all washed up and that if I ever got into the ring again—it would be at the risk of life and limb. Now, it's my life and my limb, isn't it? So I decided to show 'em. And I haven't done bad, either, have I?"

MIZE FONDLES BAT HE MAY GIVE UP

Big Johnny Mize, (center) New York Giants' slugging first baseman, fondles a bat for perhaps the last time for the duration as he appears at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., for his army induction examination. TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

[By The Associated Press]

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., March 25—Battery problems plaguing Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns appear to be solving themselves with the imminent arrival of Catcher Frankie Hayes and Wednesday's performance by Brownie pitchers, who tossed them hard enough to show their rapid approach to competitive form. Even Johnny Niggeling, recovered from a heavy cold, took his turn.

CAIRO, Ill.—Outfielder Harry Walker and Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals came to terms via telephone yesterday, splitting the difference in salary demands. Stan Musial also apparently came to terms, as when he left Pittsburgh for the Card camp Wednesday night he said he was "about ready to sign."

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The Chicago White Sox have had only one batting drill, but Manager Jimmy Dykes already is so enthused he's named the first three men in the batting order—rookie outfielder Thurman Tucker, who batted .345 for Fort Worth, followed by outfielder Wally Moses and Don Kolloway, second baseman.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Some of the 16 Chicago Cub pitchers may find themselves in the outfield when intra-squad games start Sunday. The only outfielders in camp so far are Dom Dallaessandro, Charley Gilbert and Whitey Platt.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Ray Starr, the Cincinnati Reds' rubber-armed pitcher, says of Bill Miller:

"The muscle magician is supposed to be the most relaxed man in the world and he says all good hitters must be relaxed at all times. But I'd rather see him coming to bat with the bases loaded than that Mize (Johnny) of the Giants."

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Pleased with the result of the Detroit Tigers' first intra-squad contest, Manager Steve O'Neills ordered more conditioning drills for today to prepare the club for its opening exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox here Saturday. Rudy York and Dick Wakefield were the batting stars of yesterday's game, the former smashing a long homer and the latter a 350-foot triple.

MUNCIE, Ind.—Manager Frankie Frisch divided his pirate squad for an intra-club game today, scheduling Hank Gornicki, Rip Sewell, Bob Klinger and Wally Herbert for three innings each on the mound.

BOSTON—Bob Quinn said today he was dickering for a "double A" outfielder for his Boston Braves, but he offered no details.

MEDFORD, Mass.—Joe Cronin is a strong supporter of the navy calisthenic drills. He gives them credit for the fact he got 10 of his Boston Red Sox squad members outdoors for a first workout Wednesday. The others, needing more condition, will depend on drills by CPO Harold Knight, navy physical education instructor, before making the outdoor trip.

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—The Brooklyn Dodgers seemed pretty well set from the manpower angle today, with the addition to Bobby Bragan, infielder and catcher obtained in a deal with the Phils Tuesday night.

HERSHEY, Pa.—After watching Babe Dahlgren in his first workout around first base, Manager Bucky Harris of the Phils said: "I've seen Babe often enough to know he was pretty good, but after today I really begin to appreciate him."

WILMINGTON, Del.—Connie Mack's entire squad is now in camp with the exception of Infielder Pete Suder, presumed en route, and Jimmy Pofahl, obtained from the Senators in a trade for Bob Johnson. Mack still is waiting for a letter from Pofahl explaining his reported plan to quit baseball for war work.

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—When Art Fletcher started rapping grounders to the New York Yankee infield in its outdoor drill, he must have had a peculiar sensation. No one of the men had ever played on the team before. Nick Etten was on first, Oscar Grimes on second, George Stirnweiss at short, and Bill Johnson on third.

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—A six-inning game was on the program for the New York Giants today, with Manager Mel Ott planning to use four of his rookie pitchers in the first skirmish of the season—Ken Trinkle, Bill Voiselle, Bill Sayles and Hugh East.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—College Park took on more of the semblance of a big league training camp Wednesday when eight more players reported to the Washington Senators. They were George Myatt, infielder from Columbus; Stan Spence, Catcher Tony Giolani from Minneapolis, John Marion from Utica, Pitcher Rae Scarborough, Outfielder Gene Moore, Infielder Joe Jacobs from Wichita, and Mickey Vernon, first baseman.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—The Cleveland Indians had their first intra-squad game yesterday, a team captained by Ken Keltner defeating a club led by Buddy Rosar, 7-1, in seven innings.

EXHIBITION GAMES

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The New York Yankees will meet the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants will tangle with the winner in the exhibition baseball doubleheader to be played at the Yankee Stadium, April 14, for the benefit of the civilian defense volunteer organization. In event of rain the doubleboill will be postponed until April 16.

The lineup for the two games was decided by lot with Leo Boudy representing the Giants, Ed Barrow the Yanks and John McDonald the Dodgers.

INDIAN CAGERS LOSE

DePaul, Georgetown Come Through in College Tourney

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—It will be Georgetown vs. DePaul for the national collegiate A. A. Eastern regional basketball championship at Madison Square Garden tonight, with the winner meeting the western regional champion for the national title here next Tuesday.

The Hoyas and DePaul turned in comparatively easy victories in the regional semi-finals at the Garden last night. Georgetown disposed of New York University, 55 to 36, and DePaul with long John Mikan setting a sizzling scoring pace with 20 points, trounced Dartmouth, 46 to 35, in a game which had been expected to be as close as bread and butter.

MARANVILLE AT SHIPYARD

"Rabbit" Accepts Position as Trainee in Bingham

HINGHAM, Mass., March 25 (AP)—Walter (Rabbit) Maranville, who with Johnny Evers sparked the Boston Braves to their only twentieth century pennant, in 1914, has accepted a position as a steel erector trainee at the Bingham Shipyard of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Plant officials said Maranville was scheduled to report for work today, joining an old friend, Francis (Shanty) Hogan, former New York Giants and Braves' catcher.

N. C. A. A. BOXING DRAW

Light Heavyweight Only Defending Champion on Card

MADISON, Wis., March 25 (AP)—Light heavyweight George Makris, of the University of Wisconsin, will be the only defending titleholder on hand tonight when 34 collegiate boxers and five soldiers open competition in the ninth annual National Collegiate Athletic Association boxing tournament.

Makris, who won his crown at Baton Rouge last year and was undefeated this season in dual competition, will meet Richard Farriss of Fresno (Cal.) State College in the opener at 8 P. M.

First round pairings:

120 pounds—Corp. Kirkland Pollacca, Kirtland Field, vs William Zurakowski, Michigan State; James Demos, Miami University, vs Elmer Fisk, Wisconsin.

135 pounds—Edward Wood, Michigan State vs Robert Simpson, Wabash (Ind.) College; Glenn Hawthorne, Penn State, vs. Sgt. Rodney Bell, Kirtland Field; John Collentine, Wisconsin, vs. Steve Shuster, Indiana Teachers.

145 pounds—Jack Tighe, Penn State, vs. Sgt. Ken Summers, Kirtland Field.

155 pounds—Don Miller, Wisconsin, vs. Marvin Crosley, Superior, (Wis.) Teachers; Sgt. Herman Hale, Kirtland, vs. Robert Finley, Virginia.

175 pounds—George Makris, Wisconsin, vs. Richard Farriss, Fresno State.

ARMSTRONG MAY BATTLE DAVIS

Golden Glove Feather Champ to Turn Pro; Rice Will Get Trophy

[By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.]

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Eddie Hickey, the Creighton basketball coach, thought it was the real thing when New York had its 5 A. M. air raid test the other morning . . . Hoping to sleep late, Eddie had drawn his window shades against the early morning sun . . . And just as the sirens sounded, the shade cast off its moorings and rolled to the top with the usual startling slap . . . If you can believe what the boys say along West 49th street, a couple of famous ex's, Henry Armstrong and Bummy Davis, may do a little fisticuffing in Cleveland in May . . . Since the fans can't travel, Snorter Luster, coach of Oklahoma U., hopes to take football to the customers next fall by playing in the big towns.

Unanswered question: After reading in this column about the Newark, N. J., bowler who peevishly rolled a second ball while one pin still was tottering, Private B. W. Slagle, Base Hospital, Daniel Field, Ga., writes: "I don't care how it was scored, what I want to know is did the pin boy throw the hot-head out on his ear for double-balling him?"

One-minute sports page: Jackie Floyd, Philly featherweight who was the hit of the Eastern golden gloves campionships, will turn pro as soon as the amateur boxing season ends . . . Greg Rice has been voted the New York A. C. veterans trophy for "athletic progress during 1942" . . progressing two miles at a clip . . . Matchmaker Nat Rogers claims to be the Ned Irish of Jacobs Beach. He used to run two basketball teams, the Optimos and the Arlingtons, on the East Side.

Today's guest star: Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "Judging from early reports via dog sled from the northern baseball camps, hip burns this spring won't come from sliding but from sitting on the clubhouse radiator."

Service Department: The new Del Monte, Cal., navy pre-flight school will have Varsity athletic teams in all sports, but will limit travel to a 250-mile radius . . . Lieutenant Mitchell J. Gary, former Minnesota tackle, has just been named athletic director at Del Monte . . . Major Charles M. Walton, Jr., who used to shoot baskets for West Point in 1938-39, is finding shooting a little more complicated these days. As director of gunnery at Moore Field, Tex., he shoots airplane machine guns, air-operated BB guns on link trainers and gun sight aiming point cameras.

WAR FRAUD UNIT MAY ACT

Justice Department Looks Into Steel Plate Probe

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Justice Department war frauds unit has begun to look into the story of defective steel plates turne out by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation plant in Irvin, Pa., an official, who declined direct quotation, said Wednesday.

An observer for the unit has attended hearings being conducted by the Senate investigating committee and arrangements have been made to obtain the company's records, this official said. He added that the department intends to "develop" the case.

Meanwhile, the Senate war investigating committee looked to the War Production Board and the United States Steel Corporation to ferret out those responsible for delivery of substandard steel plates to the government from the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation plant in Irvin, Pa.

Chairman Truman, Democrat, Missouri, declared the highest responsibility for "fake tests," as a result of which he said approximately five per cent of last year's steel plate shipments were below navy, lend-lease and maritime specifications, "must be found and this mess cleaned up."

NEED OF DOCTORS STRESSED

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Persons with minor ailments were called upon today by a navy officer to help make more doctors available for military duty by ceasing to call upon them to hold hands or pat pillows.

"Soft city people must get hard," said a statement issued by Commander Robert S. Palmer, senior medical officer of Naval Officer Procurement, First Naval District headquarters.

They must pass up the hand-holding, pillow-batting and re-assurance for minor ailments while American fighting men on the world's fronts are bleeding, drowning or suffering from shock or infection."

ROGERS HIGH FRESHMEN TRIM JOHN CLARKE

Take Final Game of Tourney 33-18; Soares Sets Scoring Pace

The Rogers High School Freshmen defeated the John Clarke five in the finals of the schoolboy basketball tournament Wednesday afternoon at Rogers gymnasium, 33-18. This avenged a 43-19 defeat John Clarke pinned on them recently.

The Freshmen were leading 12-7 at the half. In the second half Soares of Rogers shot six baskets to increase the Frosh lead. Tony Neves of Rogers scored nine points.

NEW HOCKEY RECORD

PHILADELPHIA, March 25 (AP)—Mike Shabaga, Philadelphia Falcons star, established a world record of six goals in one game as the Falcons whipped the Boston Olympics, 7-3, in a playoff game in the Eastern Hockey League championships Wednesday night.

The previous record in formal competition was five, set by Pete Lepine of the Montreal Canadiens in 1929.

MARINES TAKE EDGE IN USO BOXING CARD

Shaw Rallies to Score Technical K. O. Over Soldier

Leathernecks Win Two Others, Draw One; Artilleryman Gains Decision

After taking a pasting in the first round, Shaw of the Marine Corps landed with all the leather he could toss for the next two rounds and won a technical knockout over Miller of the 207th Coast Artillery in the third round in a tourney match at the USO Wednesday night.

These two welterweights furnished the thriller of the program that saw the marines take four out of seven bouts and gain revenge for the ear-pinning handed out by the soldiers last week.

Shaw was dropped for a one count in the first round and was belted all over the ring by Miller. In the next round Shaw came back full of battle and dropped Miller for a count of nine after jarring him up considerably.

The third round had the soldier's number on it. Shaw floored him twice, for the count of nine and the referee stopped the bout after Miller, bleeding freely from the mouth, was unable to continue.

DeLucca of the Marine Corps won by a knockout from Moffre of the 207th in the second bout in the novice welterweight class after Moffre had the better of the first round.

After tiring themselves in the first round, Glassew of the Coast Guard and Maguire a marine battled to a draw.

In spite of a closed left eye, the result of a punch in the first round, Kneeland of the Marine Corps could see well enough to gain a technical knockout over Matthews of the Coast Guard in another welter encounter. The bout was stopped after Matthews received a wound on the head and was forced to default.

Allen of the 207th was given the decision over LaRoche of Melville MTB in the open middleweight class. The two men have had lots of experience in amateur ranks in civilian life, but Allen proved too smart in this bout for the sailor.

Steve Beloise may fight next Wednesday night, it was announced. The bouts were refereed by Chief Specialist Brown of the Training Station and Steve Beloise.

Spencer Gardner Sullivan former professional fighter from this city, William A. Goodman and Weeden T. Underwood were the judges.

KOSHER MEAT RATIONS

Jews, Others Who Buy It to Use Different Table

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Jews or others who buy kosher-killed meats will get the same meat rations as any other consumers but will use a slightly different table of point values under the new coupon program that begins Monday.

The separate tabulation was issued, officials explained, because of differences in the cutting and selection of kosher and regular cuts of meat.

Samples of the kosher point value include: Beef rib steaks or roasts, eight points per pound; chuck streaks or roasts, seven points with the bone, eight points without the bone; beef plate flank, four points with the bone, five points without the bone; beef hamburger, five; veal breast with bone, four; veal shoulder chops, seven; lamb shoulder chops, seven; salami, nine; corned beef and smoked tongue, eight; pastrami, seven.

BATTLE IN TUNISIA

As a prelude to actual invasion of Europe that is planned, much depends on the present battle in Tunisia. It is the first major scale action in which American troops have taken part on African soil. The purpose of the toughened British Eight Army, under Montgomery, and of the Americans, under Patton, is to trap the desert fox, Rommel.

Rommel, in his campaigns so far, has proved to have more lives than the proverbial cat. He has supposedly been cornered on many occasions, only to wriggle away, and come back for more fighting. It seems hard to figure how he can finally escape the present trap that has been laid for him, but at this writing, all that can be said is that time will supply the answer.

Prime Minister Churchill has told the British Parliament he has good confidence that allied forces will finally triumph over the Nazis in Tunisia sooner or later. That is what we all believe. The question is how soon or how late. If soon, then the better for jumping off the full scale invasion of the continent so desired by Hitler's opponents. If late, then all the more difficult to land successfully and to maintain a large army in Europe.

Montgomery's Eighth Army had shown itself Rommel's master by chasing him across much of the north coast of Africa, making him leave behin. him ruined and damaged planes, tanks, trucks, and other valuable supplies. The wonder, with all this, is how Rommel is able to strike as effectively as he has. His recent onslaught against the Americans was a case in point.

On what Rommel has done in the past, Americans would do well to take note of the warning Churchill gave as he registered his confidence, and not be oversure that the fox will shortly be trapped. He has shown the skill of a fox in eluding capture. He is a hard hitter. Under orders, he has taken the role of being expendable. Before he is spent, though, we may expect a hard, difficult, dangerous chase.

The present allied campaign seems well planned. The Eight Army is striking at and around the Mareth Line that the French had built to guard themselves against the Italians in the days before Mussolini lost his empire. The Americans are striking towards the Gulf of Gabes, hoping to put the Germans in a pocket. It appears sound strategy. We can only hope it is carried through, successfully and quickly.

COMMON COLDS

These are the days when what is called the common cold is probably at its worst. The changing weather, spring-like one day, wintry the next, threatening snow turning to rain and exhibiting scores of other whimsies of the winds leads many to be careless about how they are clothed. That gives the cold germs their chance. They do not overlook that chance. In a jiffy, they are in the system. Then—try to get them out.

The cure known is easy enough, if only the patients would take their doctor's advice. But the cold germ seems to instill in those it afflicts, along with sneezes, sniffles, red eyes, aching head and limbs, with something else—sheer obstinacy. They will not go home and go to bed, although that is what they are told to do, and that is what common sense tells them to do for the common cold.

Oh, no. They persist in going to the office or to the shop. They sneeze and sniffle and pass the original germs and their millions of descendants—germs multiply quickly—to everybody susceptible within reaching distance. Pretty soon there is a cough-commotion on every floor, in every corridor, at every desk, at every door. The little cold germs go scurrying around, multiplying with abandon, and having a fine time at the expense of the supposedly wise members of the human race.

Is there anything to be done about all this? Why, certainly. When your nose stops up, your eyes burn, your head aches, your face feels hot, you ache all over, your hands and feet are like lead, go home. Take a hot bath, get into bed, stay there, until the fever is gone and you stop feeling miserable and making everybody else miserable along with you.

This may take a day. It may take a couple. But, in the long run, it is worth it. Besides, do not get into drafts, do not get wet feet, drink plenty of water, take a liquid diet with plenty of orange juice, milk, milk soups. Avoid rich food and sweets. Do just what the doctor orders.

VALIANT GREEKS

One hundred and twenty-two years ago a few thousand Greeks began their battle for independence against the powerful Ottoman Empire. The valor with which they fought is indicated by what an American newspaper said at that time. This was, "The spectacle which Greece at present exhibits, abandoned as she is, is truly imposing. Without arms, ammunition or ships of war, her soldiers, like the ancient heroes, are obliged to defend themselves with slings and clubs, and yet they have twice conquered and destroyed two enemy fleets."

Only a short time ago, as time is now, American newspapers were printing much the same about the refusal of the Greeks to accept the ultimatum from Mussolini. They said the same, too, about the courageous battle the people of that ancient land put up against the Nazi juggernaut that crushed them, but only after throwing in its greatest resources in planes, tanks, guns and men.

Times may have changed, but the spirit of Greece still has not changed. We can expect it to continue, even though the days there are dark now.

In 1821 the United States was probably the only country in the world that shared the faith of the Greeks in their fight for freedom. We had shown the world the way to freedom by our own successful Revolution. Edward Everett, Daniel Webster, President Monroe, and other famous men of that time urged financial aid for the Greeks. There were special services in the churches, balls in many cities to raise funds, medical supplies, clothing and foodstuffs were collected, Ships were chartered to send these to Greece.

The last few years has seen history repeating itself in our country. Famous men have urged aid for Greece, stricken as she is under the cruel blows of heartless invaders. Through the Greek War Relief Association much has been done. It is now in its second campaign to save Greece from total destruction by starvation. Eight Swedish ships are carrying 18,000 tons of foodstuffs to Greece each month. More help is needed for this.

Today there may be little outward celebration of Greek independence in that land itself. What attempts there are to observe the day will probably be met with instant death. But there are Greek soldiers, sailors and airmen fighting with the United Nations. And in the hearts of the people, bleeding though they be, there still pulses memories of the glorious days of liberty, and determination that those days will come once again to their sacred land.

Near Utica, N. Y.—W. H. Ringrose's big collie snarled and yelped as if in pain soon after going outdoors. Ringrose opened the door to admit his pet and closed it again just in time to shut out a snowy owl, which was attacking the dog.

Washington Day Book

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Those who predicted there would be no changes in personnel or policies in the Office of Price Administration when ex-Senator Prentiss M. Brown took over were dead wrong.

Just what is happening to personnel hasn't been made public yet, but insiders say that soft-spoken, mild-mannered Mr. Brown has been whittling away at a lot of dead wood, chiefly recruits from the legal profession with which OPA has become overburdened.

On the score of policy, the one-time small-town Michigan peninsula lawyer and banker has taken an entirely different tack from that pursued by his predecessor, Leon Henderson. Henderson built OPA and the anti-inflation program with as tough a pair of brass-knuckled fists as have been swung around Washington. Brown continues to swing when he considers it necessary, but so far as Mr. and Mrs. Public is concerned, he tries to pad his fists with feather-beds.

"War is going to be tough enough on civilians without adding any unnecessary burdens," he said the other day. "I have instructed the staff of OPA to keep constantly alert to changing conditions and to relax any rationing rules without delay whenever it becomes possible to do so.

"Not a single OPA restriction is going to last one minute longer than is necessary," he continued.

Those observations followed Brown's orders permitting workers who couldn't get to and from work on B cards to get C cards and the removal of rationing restrictions on tire recapping for passenger cars and light trucks.

BECAUSE he is a former Senator only a few months out of office, and was popular with many members of Congress, Brown has probably heard more complaints of his agency than any other wartime executive. For that reason, he's probably closer to civilian reaction than any other person in a similar position in Washington. He is naturally a kindly and sympathetic person, and it's a safe bet that he will try to carry out his ban on "unnecessary burdens."

On the other hand, Brown has demonstrated that in his present job those mild manners of his go only so far. About a month ago, in one of his rare public addresses, he took the hide off his old colleagues in Congress, charging them with impeding the war effort by "back-biting and under-the-table talk." He scored several pending bills which he said would pierce the price ceilings and break down the whole anti-inflation program, and whipped into the bituminous coal industry situation with the declaration: "There must be no strike and there must be no compromise."

Henderson, at his best, never slugged out with any harder words than those.

AT THE moment, Brown's ire is up over the black markets, especially in meats, and he has directed his entire staff of some 1,500 investigators to give that their full attention. He has plenty to say about the "chiselers" and "black market gentry," but when it's all said, he quite calmly concludes:

"When farmers, laborers and consumers fully appreciate the seriousness of the situation, they will drive the meat market racketeers out of business."

MARRIED 25 YEARS

Approximately 30 friends and relatives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Owens at their silver wedding anniversary Wednesday evening. The group had a dinner at Luke's Lodge. Mr. Owens is commander of Newport Post, American Legion, and Mrs. Owens is historian of the post.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Now here are the signs of the times—
I put it in verses and rhymes—
The snow flakes are falling,
The robins are calling,
And I'm begging some butter from Grimes.

NEWPORTER AGREES ON RENTAL PROBLEM

Cites Landlord's Side of Question of Ousting Some Tenants

To the Editor of the News:

I was glad to see in a recent edition of your paper one landlord stating our side of the question: I have had similar trouble with my property, in the form of an undesirable tenant, who has defied me to put him out, saying that the law protected him.

Are the law and the rent administration designed wholly for the tenant? Has the landlord no right? We own the property and pay the taxes that keep the city and government going, yet when we seek simple justice for ourselves, we are told to see a lawyer. Isn't the government interested in all the people, and not only the tenants?

It is time the landlords got together, and presented their case to the proper officials. We own houses, we pay taxes, but our property is captured by tenants and, it seems, we have no way out of our grievances.

Old Newporter.

CIVIC MUSIC DRIVE PASSES HALFWAY MARK

Team Captains, Workers Hold Report Meeting

Enrollment Well Ahead Of Mid-Week Total Last Year; Servicemen Invited to Concert

The membership drive of the Newport Civic Music Association reached the halfway mark Wednesday night when team captains and workers made their first report at headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce. Leaders of the campaign expressed themselves as well pleased with the results to date. The enrollment is well ahead of the mid-week total of previous years.

A part of the heightened interest is attributed to the fact that transportation difficulties make it impossible for residents to attend out-of-town entertainment as freely as in other years. Workers, therefore, are concentrating on obtaining new members enough to make possible the goal for four concert attractions this year instead of three.

The campaign will close at 9 o'clock Saturday night, after which time no more memberships can be received. No admissions are available for single concerts. The committee has announced, however, that service men are invited to attend the concert April 8 to hear Jean Dickenson, coloratura soprano, when the United States uniform will be their ticket of admission. All new members will also be the association's guests at this concert.

Officers, Charles E. Crocker, president; Mrs. James J. Rooney, vice-president; Miss Edith Trigueiro, secretary;;; John H. Hodgson, treasurer, Miss Ellen I. Nason, campaign manager.

Team captain and workers:

ONE-WAY TRIP

NORWICH, Conn., March 25 (AP)—C A. Gager applied to the Office of Defense Transportation for a supplemental gasoline ration to drive from Norwich to Detroit and return.

He was told he would have to be sure of a load both ways for each trip of his vehicle.

Gager gave up. He's an undertaker and his vehicle is a hearse.

WAVES OFFICER REQUIREMENTS EASED

Modification to Allow Acceptance of Women Seniors in Accredited Colleges

Procurement officials at First Naval District Headquarters in Boston announce a modification of requirements for women who wish to enlist in Class V-9, the officer candidate classification for the WAVES.

Hereafter, applications from Seniors in accredited colleges and universities, who qualify in every respect except educationally as officer candidates in the Women's Reserve of the Naval Reserve, will be accepted. Those enlisted under this provision, however, will not necessarily be ordered to training school immediately upon graduation.

The bureau of naval personnel is notifying the college authorities of this plan of enlistment, and will request the colleges to appoint a faculty committee prepared to recommend well-qualified candidates. Seniors applying must have the full endorsement of the faculty committee that they are outstanding members of their class. It is emphasized that this endorsement does not guarantee selection by the navy.

SHOOTING GALLERIES CURBED

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Shooting galleries will be missing when New England's amusement parks open this year.

New England members of the National Association of Amusement Parks reported Wednesday that Washington authorities had informed them there would be "no ammunition" available.

DEPENDS ON POINT OF VIEW

RALEIGH, N. C., March 25 (AP)—A defendant in superior court for trial on a minor charge was asked whether he ever had served time in prison. "Yes, 30 years for fighting, your honor," the man replied.

"Why did you get such a long sentence for fighting?" asked the judge.

"Oh," came the reply, "The fellow I was fighting with died."

JUST LIKE THE MOVIES

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The night club debut of Tina Beaumont happened when Bela Bizony, Hungarian violinist at the Coq Rouge, heard a voice accompanying his rendition. He discovered a young woman was singing to her escort. Bizony urged her to sing louder. The audience applauded, and Frank Bonacchini, the cafe owner, introduced himself and offered the young contralto a contract.

Raised in Switzerland, Miss Beaumont studied voice both in the United States and abroad, but her only previous singing appearances had been on the concert stage.

MRS. CARL BRIDENBAUGH DIES IN BROOKLYN

Historian and Wife of Naval Reserve Lieutenant, Passed Summers at "Whitehall"

Mrs. Jessica Hill Bridenbaugh, 32, writer of American history, died Tuesday at the Brooklyn Naval Hospital. She and her husband, Lieutenant Carl Bridenbaugh, U. S. N. R., a former professor of history at Brown University, for two summers occupied "Whitehall," the colonial estate of Bishop Berkeley in Middletown, while engaged in historical research relating to southern New England.

They were co-authors of "Rebels and Gentlemen," a history of Philadelphia in the time of Benjamin Franklin, published last October. Mrs. Bridenbaugh contributed to the "Dictionary of American Biography," and to various journals.

She was born in Wellesley, Mass., and was graduated from Radcliffe College in 1930, obtaining an M. A. the following year. Besides her husband, she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Holway Hill, of Wellesey.

PORTSMOUTH

[MRS. ARTHUR SMITH]
[Tel. Portsmouth 118]

A meeting of the Catholic Woman's Club was held at Manchester hall, Newtown Village, with Mrs. Henry Danis president, presiding. It was voted to give $5 to the American Red Cross War Fund, and plans were made for a silver tea Sunday afternoon, April 4 at the home of Mrs. George Lawder of Bristol Ferry road.

Election of officers will be held at the April meeting and a nominating committee will present a slate of officers for election.

A penny social and entertainment followed the meeting and winners in the contests were Mrs. Thomas Thather, Mrs. Franklyn Peyton, Mrs. Ernest Nasciemento, Mrs. John Gorton, Miss Lydia Ferreira, Mrs. Belmeida Fraida. The chairman of the social hour was Mrs. Joseph Sullivan. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Danis, Mrs. M. L. Denomme, Mrs. Emily Lopes, and Mrs. Phoebe Souza played for singing.

At the Past Master's night of Nanaquaket Grange held in Tiverton, those taking part were overseer, Charles Childs and Chaplain, Mrs. William Spooner of Aquidneck Grange, Vincent Sisson and George Ray, as executive committee of Portsmouth Grange, and Worthy Master of Portsmouth Grange Charles Ringwood. The prize in the lecturers' program was won by Stanton Brooks, Master of Pomona Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Almeida, Jr., of East Main road entertained at a birthday party for Mrs. Manuel Almeida of Jepson lane, Middletown, and for Jesse Ferreira of East Main road. Music and dancing were enjoyed and music was furnished by Evelyn Ferreira, guitar, Jesse Ferreira, accordian, and Helen Almeida, piano. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Almeida and two birthday cakes were cut.

Portsmouth Volunteer fire department was called to a grass fire at Potter's avenue, which had got out of control. Although the ban is on for having bonfires without a fireman being there, this order is not being heeded.

Miss Inez Crossley of Fall River entertained at luncheon in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Frederick Webb of East Main road, Portsmouth. There were a number of guests from Portsmouth.

A meeting of the Portsmouth Girl Scouts was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gladys Halshaw of Gormley avenue, with 17 girls present.

Mrs. Benjamin Barker of Newtown Village, who has been a patient at the Truesdale Hospital for the past few weeks, is able to sit up for a short time each day.

Miss Loretta Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Simpson of Weyerhaeuser road, passed her final examination as a WAVE March 12 and will be called to Boston sometime in April.

Mrs. Albert Huftalen, who has been a patient at the Union Hospital, Fall River, for the past 10 days, has returned to her home at Portsmouth Park.

J. Harrison Peckham, who is a patient at the Truesdale Hospital, Fall River, is reported as resting comfortably, following an operation.

READY WITH REPLY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 25 (AP)—One of the questions asked of each witness called by a legislative liquor committee was: "Ever take a drink?"

A woman from the W. C. T. U. was among the witnesses and when she took the stand, but before the question had been asked of her, she snapped: "No, I don't drink!" "Lady, you've been missing out on a lot," drawled the committee chairman, with a smile.

PRELATE TO SEE DE VALERA

BELFAST, Ireland, March 25 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York in his visit to Ireland next will stop first at Londonderry and then proceed to Dublin, where he will be received by Prime Minister and Eamon de Valera, it was learned here.

BEST-DRESSED

SERVICEMEN WIN PHONE CALLS AT USO

Program of Entertainment Includes Card Party, Table Tennis Tourney

Free telephone calls were awarded to Benjamin Wolansky of North Tonawanda, N. Y.; Stanley Kgierod of New York city and R. Cole of Presque Isle, Me., at the midweek card party at the USO club Wednesday evening. A table tennis tournament was another featured. The card party was supervised by Joseph Halves, U. S. C. G., and the tournament by Miss Betty Sullivan. Mrs. Thomas H. Moriarty was receptionist.

This evening, a minstrel show will be presented by the Portsmouth Parent-Teachers Association. The public is invited to attend.

SEED POTATO MOVEMENTS

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—More than 1,000 refrigerator cars will move into the Red River valley of North Dakota and Minnesota this week to move seed potatoes to growers in Southern states, Senator Langer, Republican, North Dakota, said Wednesday.

The Senator said he had received the information from the Office of Defense Transportation.

Langer also said he was informed by the Office of Price Administration that the effective date of an order requiring that all potatoes be tagged at the point of origin, in an attempt to eliminate a black market, had been postponed to March 29.

SEES HANDS OF LABOR

DENVER, March 25 (AP)—Lester W. Law, cashier at the department of internal revenue, says a great change has come over American hands in one year. Law is so busy he sees, usually, only the hands of the person who shoves his income tax payment through the bars of his window.

"Up to this year those hands have been soft hands, washed hands, limp hands, manicured hands,'" says Law.

"This year they were different. They were grimy hands, soiled, horny and with oil and grease in the knuckles. Frequently there was a finger or two missing, or a big bump or with a gash across the knuckles.

"They were the hands of labor."

There was a large attendance at St. Matthew's parish house Wednesday evening, when a film on "First Aid and Surgical Dressing" was shown, with Dr. Charles B. Cepp in charge. Heads of the Red Cross Motor Corps, the Casualty station, air raid wardens and first aiders were present.

A large number of servicemen attended the Sing night program held at the USO Wednesday evening. Wyatt Emery, local checker champion, lost one game out of fifteen. Other games were played and general dancing was held. Mrs. Christopher S. Peckham was the evening hostess, and LeRoy F. Meredith acted as assistant director in the absence of Mr. Hobson. This evening there will be a waffle party and games. Miss Rosamond Tefft will be in charge of games and cooking and Mrs. Jesse C. Tefft and Grange members will assist.

MEAT SALE FREEZING DENIED

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Kenneth B. Backman, regional OPA administrator, asserts emphatically that there will be no freezing of the sale of meat in connection with the forthcoming meats and fats rationing program.

He said that "if consumers aren't thrown into a panic, we can stretch what supply we have so that there will be some meats for all."

MAJESTY OF LAW

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 25 (AP)—Lane Bonner, reading clerk of the state senate, got in the groove reading a bill titled:

"A bill to amend an act entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act to mend an act to provide—"about 100 words more gave the dates of the acts mentioned, and then the title ended,"—. . . to provide for elimination of a tax collector for the Florence city school district."

The Rev. Marion Hope, superintendent of Deaconess House, Fall River, spoke at the chapel service of church night at the Methodist Church Wednesday evening, after which the Rev. Harvey K. Mousley of St. Paul's Church, Newport, showed pictures of historic spots in Newport County.

"LUCKY JORDAN" HEADS STRAND THEATRE BILL

Alan Ladd Starred in Spy Drama Starting Friday; "Tish" on Program

With Alan Ladd as its chief protagonist, Paramount's spy drama, "Lucky Jordan," will start Friday at the Strand Theatre. The story concerns the adventures of an American gangster who meets up with some of Hitler's mobsters, boys of the submarine brigade, and discovers that the good old U. S. A. is a swell country to fight for after all.

"Lucky Jordan" is Ladd's first starring film. The romance is carried by a newcomer to Hollywood, blonde Helen Walker.

Ladd is a ruthless underworld "big shot" who tries to evade the draft but learns that Uncle Sam is one guy who can't be "fixed." Even an ersatz mother, played by Mabel Paige, fails to save him from the army. Discipline, however, is something the gangster isn't used to. He promptly goes A. W. O. L., steals an automobile, kidnaps a canteen hostess (that's Helen Walker) when she gets in his way and heads back to his big city haunts.

On the same program will be Marjorie Main, Zasu Pitts and Aline MacMahon in "Tish," with Guy Kibbee, Lee Bowman and Susan Peters.

WAY TO CAUSE A RIOT

PUEBLO, Colo., March 25 (AP)—There was never a dull moment after W. A. Flynn, department store manager, placed 30 dozen pairs of women's nylon hosiery on sale.

Even the police couldn't back the crowds. Two glass display cases were broken and two others pushed over. Carpenters had to be called to make emergency reinforcements so the counters wouldn't be crushed.

Seven hundred women reached the display cases to compete for the 360 pairs and another 300 milled about the locked doors.

SEED POTATO SALE CURBED

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Starting today, the retail store sale of seed potatoes for any purpose other than planting is prohibited, the OPA has announced. Regulations require that seed potatoes be tagged as such and not sold in quantities of less than 50 pounds.

KILLED BY PROPELLER

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 25 (AP)—Struck by the propeller of an airplane, First Lieutenant Alan Jordan Bamberger, 25, of 801 East Broadway, Long Beach, N. Y., was killed Wednesday, officers at Grenier Field reported.

A graduate of Columbia University, he had been attached to the quartermaster's detachment at the field for six months.

SURVIVORS AT BOSTON

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The navy reported today that a medium-sized United States merchant ship was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Atlantic late in February. Survivors have landed at Boston.

OVER 100 WOMEN TAKE CIVILIAN DEFENSES OATH

Group to Serve As Block Leaders Here

Heads of Other Defense Activities Attend Meeting At Art Association

Over 100 women took the Civilian Defense oath at a meeting of block leaders held at the Art Association Wednesday afternoon. The oath was administered by John Nicholas Brown, chairman of Civilian Defense, who presided in the absence of Harold W. McGinn, chief of the local war services division.

Miss Mary Hogan, chief of the State Council of Defense, told the block leaders that the success of the organization depended upon the honesty and integrity of the block leaders in winning the confidence and trust of their neighbors. She called theirs one of the most sacred tasks on the home front.

She said the war can be won in every home, and on every block by hard work and co-operation. She commended the block leaders of this city and explained that the organization was to be used only as a part of the war service branch of Civilian Defense and by no other organization.

Two skits, "The Wrong Way" and "The Right Way For a Block Leader to Approach a Household," with Mrs. Walter S. Andrews playing the part of the husband; Mrs. McGinn, the housewife, and Mrs. G. R. Berner, the block leader, were presented.

Lawrence Lanpher, state salvage chairman, said Newport had done a fine job in the salvage campaigns conducted by George Henry Warren, Jr., chairman of the local salvage committee, and urged women to save tin cans.

Mrs. Shortley told the block leaders that even one spoonful of fat a week is important and said there was a desperate need for fats and oils.

Raymond C. Northup, chairman of the victory garden committee, said home gardens are necessary because of the demand for more food by our army.

SHOCK IN CORN SHOCK

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 25 (AP)—You might expect to find corn in a corn shock, so Carl Suddath and H. B. McCarley, city policeman, poked around the piled stalks on a vacant lot. They located 127 half-gallon jars of liquid corn—or moonshine whiskey—concealed within.

GET FIRST AID KITS

OMAHA, Neb., March 25 (AP)—All police cruiser cars in Omaha have been issued first aid kits as a means of reducing auto fatalities. Officers are instructed to avoid attempting complicated treatment, but to try to keep an accident victim alive until an ambulance arrives.

JAMES J. HORGAN DIES AT HIS HOME HERE

Succumbs After Brief Illness, Funeral Will Be Held Friday

James J. Horgan, 50, died Wednesday at his home on Gould street after a brief illness. He was born in this city, son of the late Maurice and Mary Sullivan Horgan. Surviving are a sister, Miss Mary G. Horgan, a teacher at Cranston-Calvert School; three nephews, Representative James J. Horgan, 2d., William Horgan and Maurice Horgan, and two nieces, Mrs. Lester England of Colorado Springs, Col., and Mrs. Carl White of San Diego, Cal.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 A. M. in St. Joseph's Church.

NORSE CREW ESCAPE SINKING

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—The crew of 42 men escaped when a small Norwegian merchant vessel was sunk by a torpedo in the Atlantic last month—but they were unable to save two cats and a dog.

SIX GET PURPLE HEARTS

Awards Conferred on Wounded Veterans of African Campaign

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Six wounded veterans of the North African campaign have been decorated with the Purple Heart, the army disclosed today. The awards were conferred in the new Halloran General Hospital on Staten Island last week.

Among the men decorated were:

Private Clarence Gregory of Lynn, Mass., injured near Faid Pass, Tunisia, January 31.

Private Daniel B. Relihan of North Walpole, N. H., who suffered leg and arm fractures in action at St. Cloud, Algeria, November 8.

Colonel Ralph G. De Voe, Army Medical Corps veteran in charge of the hospital, who made the awards, said that hundreds of American soldiers wounded on the battlefields were being treated at the hospital, a new institution situated on a 383-acre wooded estate on the island. The description of the hospital and its activities, released by the Second Service Command, said it had a capacity of 3,000 beds.

BUDGET BODY STUDIES PRELIMINARY DRAFT

Commission Prepares to Make Final Report For Submission to Council

The Budget Commission at another meeting that lasted until after midnight Wednesday reached a bottom line and studied a preliminary draft of the totals in preparation for making up the final report for the 1943-44 fiscal year to be submitted to the Representative Council at the April meeting a week from next Tuesday night.

Cornelius C. Moore, chairman of the commission, said today the group would not meet again this week, but would assemble perhaps on Monday for further consideration of the report. He said there may be some recasting before the final form is reached.

There was no official indication this morning as to what the bottom line was, or to what decision the committee had come regarding such items in their consideration as increases for the police and fire department and city employes.

PLANE CRASHES IN R. I. BEING INVESTIGATED

Navy Flier Lost in Bay Near Wickford

Army Man Dead in Forced Landing; Another Aircraft Lands Lands In Road

Investigations were under way today to determine the causes of two military plane crashes in Rhode Island Wednesday. A navy flier was lost when his plane plummeted into Narragansett bay off Wickford in the afternoon. An army flier died while being taken from his craft after a forced landing at dusk in West Greenwich. The names of the men were not immediately given out. Another army plane made a forced landing at the same time with minor injuries to the pilot.

Ensign George William Beal, U. S. N. R., 23, of Lisbon Falls, Maine, was identified today as the naval aviator who lost his life in a plane crash 1,500 yards off the beach at Wickford, Wednesday. The public relations office here said Ensign Beal's mother, Mrs. Raymond C. Beal, has been notified.

Enrolling in the navy in September, 1941, Ensign Beal served at Squantum, Mass., and Jacksonville, Fla., before becoming an aviation cadet in January 1942, and an ensign last July.

Flight Officer Oscar Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Kline of Clements Bridge road, Barrington, N. J., was killed when his plane burst into flames after crashing.

The name of the injured pilot, whose plane landed in the highway, was not disclosed by the army.

The army pilot who escaped with light injuries landed on Nooseneck Hill road, Richmond. The craft jumped a traffic safety isle several times and came to rest with its nose against a public utility pole.

The other army craft skimmed over the top of an automobile driven by a Gaspee Plateau man, bounded end over end through dense woods for more than 75 feet. Fire broke out around the engine, and spread to the underbrush. It was put out before it reached the plane's gasoline tank. Rescue workers went into the woods as soon as the crash occurred.

Reports said the two army planes circled the area for several times with their landing wheels down before the first one landed in West Greenwich, a short distance north of the Exeter line. The Eastern Defense Command said the plane hit the roadway, bounded high in the air and struck a tree. It was also reported it flipped over after hitting the tree and crashed through smaller trees and underbrush.

EDUCATOR, AUTHOR DIES

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., March 25 (AP)—Frank E. Farley, 75, professor emeritus of English literature at Wesleyan University, died Wednesday night.

A native of Manchester, N. H., he was graduated from Harvard in 1893 and taught briefly at Harvard, Radcliffe, Haverford and Syracuse. From 1903 to 1918 he taught at Simmons College, in Boston, and from 1918 to his retirement in 1936 at Wesleyan.

He was the author of several books and in 1898 edited books 1 and 2 of Milton's "Paradise Lost."

88 DEATHS RECORDED IN LAST TWO MONTHS

Mark Gain Over 1942; Increased Population Given as Reason

Deaths in Newport in the first two months of 1943 were more numerous than in the same period for 1942, the statement of mortality for February, released by the Board of Health, shows. There were 53 deaths in January and 35 in February, a total of 88 for the first two months this year, as against 33 in January and 30 in February, or a total of 63 for the same period a year ago. In 1942, the deaths totalled 373.

The increased population as a result of the influx of war workers was given as a possible reason for the increase of deaths. Of the 35 who died in February, only 11 were native Newporters. Four were born in other Rhode Island towns, nine in other states, nine in other countries, and two, unknown. The average age was 62 years, seven months, 12 days.

K. OF C. SPEAKERS MEET IN COLUMBUS HALL

Class Discusses Nation's Problems, To Consider Poets, Writings Next Week

Members of the Knights of Columbus public speaking class were assigned subjects and allowed three minutes to prepare their talks at the twenty third meeting in Columbus Hall Wednesday evening. Dr. Michael F. Walsh, acting superintendent of schools, announced that the group will consider poets and their writings next week.

The addresses Wednesday included "What can be done to aid post war Newport and Rhode Island to maintain prosperity" by Dr. Richard J. Dowling; Divergent Congressional trends from the national administration and their future effects" by William J. Lucey; "Should the United States alone or with other nations police the world after the present war?" by Walter MacAlpine; "Air power in winning the war" by Roger W. Fontaine; "The gas, oil and coal outlooks for New England next winter" by Philip A. Maguire; "Business after the war" by Thomas H. Sullivan; "The manpower problem of today" by John J. Ebbitt; "The North African situation" by Roger W. Harrington; "The city government of Newport" by James F. Stewart; "Benefits obtained from public speaking" by William H. Sullivan; "Future possibilities for young men at schools of higher learning" by John F. Finerty.

ARMY OFFICER ELEVATED

Major George A. Bates, adjutant of the Narragansett Bay Harbor Defenses and a graduate of the General Staff School at Leavenworth, Kansas last July has been promoted to a lieutenant colonel. Before the war, he was a chemist in civilian life. He was mobilized with the 243rd Coast Artillery, R. I. N. G. He is a graduate of Rhode Island State College in the class of 1934 and is a native of Providence.

NURSES URGED TO TURN IN INVENTORY CARDS

About 38 Per Cent In State Not Yet In; Newport Responds to Demand

Miss Anna J. Delmore, special state agent of the Nursing Council for War Service, announced today that 62 per cent of the graduate registered nurses in Rhode Island have returned their inventory cards in the national nursing survey now drawing to a close. She urged the remaining 38 per cent are urged to return their cards at once.

"The state and the nation must know the strength of its nurse power in case of local or national emergency or disaster," Miss Delmore said, noting that the demand for nurses has steadily increased in the last year "The War Manpower Commission, at the request of the National Nursing Council for War Service, is setting up a nursing supply unit which will utilize the inventory as a basis for operation."

Miss Nina Gage, superintendent of nurses at the Newport Hospital, in commenting on the local situation, said that most of the married nurses living in Newport have responded to the increased demand by returning to help out when called. She made known that a plan is now being worked out for opening a day nursery to care for children of nurses, who would thereby be freed for part-time service.

JACK BENNY HEADS FILM AT OPERA HOUSE

"The Meanest Man in The World" On Program With "Chetniks"

Jack Benny is currently featured at the Opera House in "The Meanest Man in the World."

The immediate cause of Jack's transformation is Priscilla Lane, his home town sweetheart. The remote cause is Benny's worldly-wise right hand man, Rochester.

At the outset, Jack is his genial self, starving but satisfied, until Priscilla's pop puts thumbs down on him because he's a failure. Priscilla, says Pop, will not marry Jack until he makes good in a big way. Which means, says Rochester, Benny's got to turn over a new leaf.

Continuing from there, the romantic minded Rochester convinces Benny that, in this world the kind-hearted perish and only the unsentimental survive. Benny resolves at once to become the meanest man, if that be necessary, to win fair Priscilla's hand.

The co-feature is 20th Century-Fox's "Chetniks!" the story of a nation that refuses to die. The film features Philip Dorn, John Shepperd, Anna Sten, Virginia Gilmore and Martin Kosleck.

WAR PLANT STORK SERVICE

CAMDEN, N. J., March 25 (AP)—A stork service for busy war workers is in operation at the RCA Victor plant here.

The service came to light when a worker told his foreman that the stork was hovering over his house. He didn't want to take time off to wait for the bird to land, yet he was afraid his wife would have transportation difficulties. And there are no outside telephones in the restricted area in which he works.

"We have just the thing for you," the foreman said, grinning. "Just leave word at the personnel department—stork service division."

The worker did. Later that day the wife telephoned. The personnel department flashed word to the husband over the plant's public address system. Five minutes later he was on his way in a cab.

HAZARDS OF WAR

FORT CUSTER, Mich., March 25 (AP)—Private Robert E. Graham of Saginaw, Mich., hasn't been out of the United States, but for 24 hours he was listed as a battle casualty. He suffered a shoulder injury while helping unload casualties sent to Percy Jones Hospital and was written up with the returning wounded and assigned a bed. He was No. 13 in the list of Michigan casualties until the error was discovered.

Announcement

For the past five weeks we have been short of help in our shoe repairing department.

We have had to disappoint some by making them wait longer, it having been impossible to render our usual speedy service that patrons have been accustomed to receive in the past.

In as much as we have tried to get help from other cities we take this opportunity to announce we have now enough help to continue.

Now is the time to get all your old shoes out of your closets and have them repaired before we run short of help again.

GREAT BUYING CONTINUES

Some Housewives Stock Up Before Meat Ration Starts

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—Stepped-up buying in anticipation of meat, cheese and fats rationing, that was reported by food dealers from the beginning of this week, continued without reports of material change in New England trading centers today as ration point values for the various foods were made public.

While a large proportion of the housewives still had not had opportunity to study the new values during the earlier part of the day, dealers indicated that the news had been partly discounted by the general knowledge that rationing was imminent.

Store owners already had reported increased buying of cheesees, available meats, and materials that could be used as substitute spreads for bread—in place of butter. But they pointed out that scanty supplies of meats in many communities offered little opportunity for stocking up.

IRREPARABLE LOSS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 25 (AP)—Mrs. A. B. Learned of Trenton, Ky., lost her baggage in a mixup here.

It later was found, opened and rifled.

Money and several other valuables were still there.

Missing—a new pair of silk hose.

MIZE PASSES DRAFT TEST

ST. LOUIS, March 25 (AP)—Johnny Mize, New York Giants' first baseman, was accepted for the armed services today after passing his physical examination at Jefferson Barracks.

Mize will be assigned to either the army, navy or Coast Guard this afternoon.

NAZIS RAID SCOTLAND

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—For the first time in weeks Nazi bombers raided Scotland early today.

Incendiaries were dropped in southeastern Scotland as the German bombers cut through intense anti-aircraft fire toward central Scotland.

WALSH ON RUML PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts and his former secretary, Representative Philip J. Philbin, also of Massachusetts, Wednesday issued a joint statement favoring the Ruml tax plan, with the Carlson amendment to provide that "windfalls" of $20,000 or more during 1942 should not be forgiven.

SHUNS RICKENBACKER

ATLANTA, March 25 (AP)—President Albert W. Gossett of the Atlanta Federation of Trades in a statement Wednesday said he had declined to sit on the platform when Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker speaks here Sunday.

"I trust that you and your associates will understand why it is impossible for me to accept your invitation and sit with you gentlemen on the platform while a noted speaker is attacking the very people to whom I have devoted my humble efforts and for whose welfare and advancement the Atlanta Federation of Trades was founded more than half a century ago," he write the chairman of the committee sponsoring Rickenbacker's appearance.

Gossett said his statement followed one by Rickenbacker Tuesday urging war workers to come and hear from his "own lips" his position on labor.

CORN SHORTAGE SEEN

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Manufacturers of corn products have appealed to the Agriculture Department for supplies of corn said to be needed to keep their plants going, it was learned Wednesday night, while the WPB expressed concern over the plight of distillers facing shutdowns through inability to get the grain.

The manufacturers of starch, syrup, cereals and other food and industrial products report they have been unable to buy corn in the open market because owners are holding in anticipation of higher prices. Legislation pending in Congress would require the OPA to raise its ceiling on prices of corn, now about 92 per cent of parity to full parity.

U. S. PLANES HIT JAP AIR BASE

Set Fire at Kahili; Army Airmen in Bombing, Gunning Raids

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The navy reported today that heavy army bombers and navy torpedo planes have attacked Japanese positions at Kahili, an enemy air base in the northwestern Solomons. A fire was started by the raid, which occured Wednesday.

A small enemy ship in the Shortland Island area was bombed with unobserved results. All United States planes returned from the attacks.

Kahili, which has been attacked many times before, is two miles north of the enemy harbor of Buin on the southeast coast of Bougainville Island, about 205 nautical miles northeast of Guadalcanal, where the American airfield is located.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 25 (AP)—General MacArthur's "flying artillery" made 44 bombing and gunning runs over Japanese lines at Mubo Wednesday Wednesday, firing 30,000 rounds from cannon and machine-guns into enemy positions guarding the approaches to the Japanese New Guinea base at Salamaua, Allied headquarters announced today.

Other Allied planes carried out day and night attacks on Japanese bases in the islands above Australia, scoring hits on shipping and airdrome areas, and one bomber on a reconnaissance mission shot two Japanese fighter planes out of the air in a duel ove Wewak, New Guinea, a communique declared.

The enemy's planes also were in the sky before daylight yesterday, raising Allied bases at ORO bay and Milne bay, in New Guinea, with little effect, it was said.

In the air duel over Wewak three Japanese fighter planes challenged a Flying Fortress which within five minutes shot the tail off one, causing it to crash into the side of a mountain; sent the second into a smoking dive, and forced the third to quit the combat, despatches from the Allied base said.

A 5,000-ton merchant ship was reported hit by the Allied bombers near Kaimana, Dutch New Guinea, and two small coastal vessels were damaged off the Kai Islands, where medium bombers also struck at enemy-occupied towns in low level attacks.

Dobo, in the Aroe Islands, Buka in the Solomons, Gasmata, in New Britain, and Finschhafen and Lae, in New Guinea, were other targets, with airdrome installations the principal objectives, the communique said.

The jungle screen hid results of the attack on enemy ground forces at Mubo, about 16 miles south of Salamaua, but "machine-gun positions were silenced and tents and buildings damaged or destroyed," the headquarters bulletin said. "The area was enveloped in smoke following the attack."

U. S. STEEL SETS RECORDS

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The world's largest steel producers, United States Steel Corp., and its subsidiaries, reported output last year was 28 per cent greater than in the peak year of the first World War, or in excess of 30,000,000 net tons of ingots.

"The victory parade of steel ingots" was more than one-third of the nation's total production, and was only part of U. S. Steel's contribution to the war effort, its annual report said.

The 335,866 employes—highest average on record for the company— turned out $1,865,951,692 in goods and services during 1942, the total revenue approximating $2,000,000,000.

POST-WAR PLANNING

IT is sound and sensible to plan ahead. That is true for individuals as well as nations. YOU should have a post-war financial plan, and it should include a substantial bank balance to provide cash for emergencies or necessary readjustment to peace times. PROPOSED RECREATION BIULDING FOR TONOMY HILL HOUSING PROJECT

This architect's drawing shows how new building will look. It is composed of two wings, at right angles; and planned with sufficient floor space for varied activities. The building will face Hillside avenue and run 125 feet in two directions, with a depth of 40 to 45 feet. The Jefferson Construction Company of Chelsea, Mass., was low bidder with $51,693 when bids were opened Monday afternoon by the Newport Housing Authority.

BISHOP G. G. BENNETT PREACHES AT EMMANUEL

Takes Value of Prayer as Theme of Sermon

Episcopal Clergymen Assist at United Service; Speaker For St. John's Announced

Prayer and its value at this and all times was the theme of a sermon preached by the Right Rev. Granville Gaylord Bennett, D. D., suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island, in Emmanuel Church Wednesday evening. It was the third of the weekly united services of the Episcopal churches. Bishop Bennett congratulated the churches on having such fine Lenten services.

"We are trying today," Bishop Bennett said, "to think things through and get away from our prejudices. In this God-ordained and God-governed world in all the changes of today there is a pattern of life forming. Certain values in the world were set up by God and we are assured fundamentally that the pattern must be followed. The fire that is about us now will be subdued and you will give your children a righteous inheritance."

He spoke of the necessity of learning to pray, not merely of saying prayers.

"The first essential of prayer," he pointed out, "is the forgiveness of sins and then comes worship. You must tell God that you love Him and keep on telling Him. Pray this Lent as you have never prayed before that through us peace may come to this war-torn world."

The Rev. Harold St. George Burrill, rector of Emmanuel Church, was assisted in the service by Bishop Bennett, the Rev. Dr. Lauriston L. Scalfe, rector of Trinity Church and the Rev. Roy W. Magoun, superintendent of the Seamen's Church Institute. The offertory anthem was Gounod's "Jesu, Word of God Incarnate." Alfred A. Swinden, organist and choirmaster at Emmanuel, had charge of the music.

The united service next week will be in St. John's Church, the Rev. Arthur H. Austin, rector. The preacher will be the Rev. H. Neville Tinker, rector of the Church of the Epiphany in Providence.

BOYS TRAINED FOR ARMY

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The Boys' Clubs of America have inaugurated a pre-military service training plan designed to give American boys a more equal chance in combat with German Japanese.

The plan stresses physical fitness and development of technical and mechanical skills. Boys with such defects as hernia, bad teeth, curvature of the spine, fallen arches and so on are given medical attention.

Army-approved exercises are given to increase strength, endurance, alertness and co-ordination. Swimming, life saving and first aid are taught along with classes in radio, telegraphy, motor mechanics, navigation and kindred subjects.

WOMEN'S FIELD ARMY PLANS ENROLLMENT

Members Receive Letters Announcing Opening of Campaign In April

The Women's Field Army will conduct its annual enrollment during April, according to letters sent to members by Mrs. Barbara Norman Jones, Newport County commander of the Rhode Island division. Mrs. J. Russell Heire of Purgatory road, Middletown, is treasurer. She will receive both donations and membership checks, the latter at $1 each.

Mrs. Jones, in her letter announcing this year's campaign, called attention to a national death toll of 150,000 annually from cancer. It stands as a constant enemy to health, and must be combatted continually, she said, adding that surgery, radium and X-ray treatments are expensive, but the fight cannot be won without them.

New members are needed this year to broaden the scope of the educational work, Mrs. Jones pointed out. Rhode Island, with the highest cancer death rate of any state in the Union, is in particular need of this form of combatting the disease, she said.

ATLANTIC LODGE ELECTS

At a meeting of Atlantic Lodge, Machinists Auxiliary, Wednesday night in Machinist's Hall with Mrs Elizabeth Wilson, the vice president, presiding, the resignation of Mrs. Artemisia Johnson as president was received.

Mrs. Wilson was elected president, Mrs. Theresa White, vice president, and Mrs. Delores Broulette, chaplain.

A social hour followed the meeting.

MRS. FRANK GEORGE RITES

The funeral of Mrs. Anna George, wife of Frank George of the East Main road, Portsmouth, took place from the Murphy Home to St. Anthony's Church, where the Rev. David Killen said a mass of requiem. The bearers were Nelson Moffitt, Joseph Ferris, Manuel Correira and John Fernandes. The pastor, the Rev. Bart Buckley, conducted the committal service in St. Columba's cemetery.

ALMOST 350 PLAN VICTORY GARDENS HERE

Committee Meeting Hears Reports of Survey

Use of More Lots Donated; Group Plowing, Warning To Raiders Suggested

At a meeting of the Victory Garden committee held Wednesday night at Civilian Defense headquarters, it was announced by Raymond C. Northup, chairman, that 347 persons already were known to have planned home gardens. This figure was given out with only one-third of the survey recently made by the block leaders completed.

Because of the response given to the garden idea, the committee made plans for a meeting of the victory gardeners. It probably will be held in two weeks. The committee announced that the information center being arranged at the Newport Electric Corporation show rooms under the direction of Alfred Angel and John Campbell, of the Horticultural Society, is expected to open April 1. A map showing the location of lots set aside for use as gardens with the names of those to whom the plots are assigned will be kept at the center. A garden exhibit is being set up at the center.

Those who have given lots to be used as gardens include Mrs. Walter S. Andrews, Mrs. Grace Biesel, Commander B. B. McCormick, R. M. Jackson, Mrs. Livingston Hunt, Mrs. L. H. Barrett, Russell Cozzens, Michael Kirby, Mrs. Joseph S. Anthony, F. J. Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Scannevin.

Chairman Northup and Mr. Campbell said it would help the committee if all offers of lots were in by Saturday so that an inspection could be started and samples of the soil tested.

Mr. Angel said that Hugo Key, Coggeshall avenue, Ernest Leal, Webster street, and Peckham Brothers, Middletown, have equipment for plowing. It was suggested that groups get together to have plowing done at the same time in order to save time and labor. In the Point section, a group has leased a lot and has everything in readiness for plowing.

It was suggested that signs be put up to ward off raiders. In this connection Councilman Clarence A. Dill, a member of the committee, said there should be a city ordinance carrying a heavy penalty for raiding.

PUT ON PROBATION

Alfred Corey, of Gould street, charged with driving an automobile without a license, was put on probation by Judge Arthur J. Sullivan in the district court this morning. A man charged with drunkenness was sent to Newport County jail for 10 days.

WAGER WINDS NO TAKERS

BOSTON, March 25 (AP)—A $1,000 wager offered in the Massachusetts senate—to back a contention that a bartender couldn't determine the age of a minor claiming to be an adult—found no takers today.

During debate on a bill that would have imosed fines of $10 to $100 on minors who falsified their ages ta obtain liquor, Senator Miles, Brockton, a doctor, said it was "hooey" to believe bartenders couldn't tell a child from an adult.

"I'll wager $1,000," reported Senator Stanton, Democrat, Fitchburg, "that I can bring two boys or two girls in here, and the senator will not be able to tell their age."

The bill was defeated 18 to 7.

OVER 100 BOYS ATTEND MESSENGER MEETING

Group Gets Preliminary Instructions Before Starting Defense Training Course

More than 100 boys to be used as Civilian Defense messengers met with Richard W. Molby, Boy Scout field executive, at Civilian Defense headquarters Tuesday night for preliminary instruction in messenger duties in preparation for the two weeks' training course starting Tuesday night at 7:30. All messengers are to meet at 10 A. M. Saturday at Morton Park for outdoor training it was announced.

John Barry Ryan, chief air raid warden, spoke to the boys. DeWayne R. Flohr and Louis S. Murphy were present. Mr. Murphy, head of transportation of Civilian Defense, showed the messengers the new headquarters at the Transportation garage. These quarters are to be blacked out by Sea Scouts Herbert Reed and Benjamin Driscoll and Scout Richard Carey before the blackout test Monday night.

A meeting of the women's drivers corps will be held at 7:30 tonight at the Armory.

The rescue squad drilled in the court yard of Rogers High School Wednesday night.

A FINE FURLOUGH

MIAMI, Okla., March 25 (AP)—When Sergeant Mike Haggard at long last got a furlough and came home he was met at the station by:—His family—a messenger boy with a telegram.

The telegram said the army was sorry but Sergeant Haggard was being transferred and he'd better beat it back to camp right now. Sergeant Haggard flagged the very next train out of town.

R. I. SALVAGE QUOTA TO JUNE 1 SET

Figures Call For 67,000 Tons of Scrap Iron

Totals to Include Material Turned In Through Drives Since January

Rhode Island's salvage quota to June 30, including that collected since January 1, totals 67,000 tons of scrap iron, 1,300 tons of prepared tin cans, 810,000 pounds of kitchen fats, and 4,386 typewriters, the last to be sold to the government. No quotas have been allotted for individual communities. This was made known by regional headquarters in Boston today, with the approval of the War Production Board.

There will be a special campaign for copper, bronze and brass, which is considered the leading critical shortage at this time. The quotas for these materials will be set after a meeting in Boston March 31.

Because of the diminishing supply, no quotas have been set for silk or rayon stockings, but all sources will continue to be tapped, and unusual efforts made to gather these. The latest Rhode Island figures indicate 6,662 pounds of hosiery or over 100,000 pairs, have been shipped since last November 16, when the campaign started.

Tin tubes still provide an important source of tin in Rhode Island, according to Lawrence Lampher, executive secretary of the Rhode Island Salvage Committee. A survey of the situation among the wholesale druggists in Rhode Island that pick up the used tin tubes from retail stores indicates that since the inception of this program last summer over 34000 pounds of used tubes have been shipped from Rhode Island wholesalers.

Of this amount 6,700 pounds were collected by the drug stores of Rhode Island and were shipped to the Tin Salvage Institute during February. Each tube weighs on an average of 1½ ounces, which indicates that approximately 71,466 tubes were collected in Rhode Island in February.

New England is expected to salvage 810,000 tons of scrap metal, 9,438,000 pounds of kitchen fats and 15,500 tons of prepared tin cans "between now and June 30, supplemented by materials collected since January 1," the regional War Production Board has announced. The area also is expected to sell 44,007 typewriters to the government for army and navy use.
